U. P. CHURCH.

12th Annual Session of the General Assembly.

SERMON BY REV. R. A. BROWN, D. D.

Subject: "Christian Unity."

PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS.

Report of Home Missions Board.

Last evening the General Assembly of the U. P. Church commenced its twelfth annual session in the First U. P. church, (Rev. W. J. Reid's), Seventh avenue. The body is composed of about two hundred delegates, equally divided between ministerial and lay, and is the highest judiciary of the Church. During the afternoon the members commenced to arrive, and at the call to order nearly all were found to be in attendance. A large audience of persons representing nearly all the U. P. churches in the vicinity was also present, and seemed to take great interest in the proceedings.

At half past seven o'clock Dr. R. A. Brown, of Westminster College, Moderator of the last Assembly accompanied by the Rev. T. S. Kendall, of Oregon, ascended the platform, when the exercises were opened with the singing of the One Hundred and Second Psalm, second version, commencing at the 16th verse—

"God in His glory shall appear,
When Zion He builds and repairs,
He shall regard and lend his ear
Unto the needy's humble prayer."

Rev. Mr. Kendall then led the Assembly in fervent and appropriate prayer for wisdom in all their deliberations, and harmony and peace as the results of their gathering.

The audience again united in singing the Sixty-seventh Psalm

"Lord, bless and pity us,
Shine on us with thy face
That the earth thy way, and nations all
May know thy saving grace."

Dr. Brown then read the Scripture lesson from the 17th chapter of John, commencing at the 13th verse. At the conclusion of the reading, the Rev. gentleman announced his text, and delivered the annual sermon as follows:

THE UNITY THAT CONVERTS THE WORLD.

THE OPENING SERMON BEFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF NORTH AMERICA, DELIVERED BY THE MODERATOR, REV. R. A. BROWNE, D. D., MAY 25, 1870, IN THE FIRST U. P. CHURCH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

JOHN, 17: 17, 20, 21—"Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them which shall believe on me through their word: that they all may be one, as thou, Father, are in me and I in thee; that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

The oneness of saints with God and one another, together with the love and kindly offices growing out of it, is one of the most pleasing themes contained in the Scripture. Each Christian has often felt its power. Who cannot sympathize with the sense of solitude which oppressed the heart of Paul, a prisoner, in chains, under guard, as he now comes nigh the proud metropolis of the Roman world? And who is there that cannot feel the relief to the Apostle's heart, expressed in the simple record that follows: "From thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and the Three Taverns: whom, when Paul saw, he thanked God and took courage?" Blessed be God for the solace and communion of saints. It is reviving as the fragrance of the ointment that consecrated Aaron the high priest of the Lord; it is refreshing as the dews of morning when their crystal drops glisten on the verdant slopes of fruitful mountains—Hermon and Zion—from whose summit God commands the blessing, even everlasting life.

In Jesus' intercessory prayer, his supplication that his followers of all time might be one stands in close connection with the petition for their sanctification by means of the word. It is not an arbitrary connection which is thus indicated. Faith in the word makes men holy—sanctifying them after the pattern of God's holiness. Being one in resemblance to God, they are necessarily one in resemblance to one another. The word is the means; sanctification and unity with God and one another the result. But it is not the only result. The unity of believers in Christ and one another, when beheld, carries with it the power of conviction to the world that Christ's mission is divine. "Sanctify them through thy truth—thy word is truth—that they may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

To the subject of this unity our attention will be briefly directed. Its discussion is not unsuitable to the times, since there is a present tendency that some persons may fall into the old and dangerous error that the unity which convinces the world is organic unity. It is something far better than that. It is the unity of Christians not of the Church that is to accomplish this result. It is not the obliteration of denominations and the merging of all departments into one consolidated ecclesiastical organism; but a manifest one-ness in heart and life displaying itself in deeds of Christian love and zeal, through these denominational channels in part as the very means of their expression, that shall bring glory to God by the still more extensive conversion of men.

There are denominational divisions that are unneeded and indefensible. An approximation to organic, that is, ecclesiastical unity is important, so far as it may be practicable. But this ecclesiastical unity is not all; it is not even chief. The case may be whole and yet the sweet perfume may have escaped. Christianity may live in the outward name of a church, maintaining its visible integrity; and yet the faith and good works toward God for which only a church is organized may be wanting. Instead of such unity converting the world it thrusts it back into unbelief. The church cannot increase her numbers by consolidation or otherwise at the sacrifice of purity in truth and practice, without giving the worst occasion for the assaults of her foes. The infidel finds in such a unity the secret of the church's weakness, and makes haste to pierce the joints of her armor. We hear his execrations, and bow our heads, and say, "Let him alone, and let him curse, for the Lord hath bidden him."

In discussing this subject, I shall present these three propositions.

1. The real unity of believers consists in their likeness to Christ, and thus to one another.
2. This unity is a visible one.
3. It is not organic unity; that is, it has a real existence notwithstanding that Christians serve God in many departments and denominations, and hold minor points of difference in faith and practice.

I. The real unity of believers consists in their likeness to God and one another.

In the process by which a sinner becomes a Christian, he is born again, spiritually; he becomes a new man. In that new birth he is formed into the image of God his Divine Father and becomes like Christ his Elder Brother. Thus each one resembles every other—a family likeness exists between the sons and daughters of the Lord Almighty. It is the likeness of a grand nature. Gideon said to Zeba and Zalmunna, "What manner of men were they whom ye slew at Tabor?" And they answered, "As thou art, so were they; each one resembled the children of a king." But here each one has a princely birth in the royal family of God; a birth into the same similitude, and to laws of developement of a similar life.

This resemblance in nature and development cannot be detected by outward circumstances. The prince may be hid behind the beggar's rags. The heir of a throne may, like Alfred, do menial service in a peasant's cot. This unity is not in rank. It is not even in race. The children of this kingly household of God may be born in palace or hovel; they may wear the swart hue of the dwellers of the tropics or the pale complexion of a cooler clime. They may be Barbarian or Scythean, Jew or Greek, bond or free; these are minor and trivial distinctions which are lost to view in the majestic fact that they are "all one in Christ Jesus."

This one-ness in Christ is strongly marked by common love and reverence which Christians entertain for the Sacred Scriptures as the truth of God revealed to man for a most marvelous and gracious purpose. Differ, believers may, as it is human to differ, regarding the meaning in instances of its teachings, but not regarding their binding force when ascertained.

Hence, according to the teachings of the Scriptures there is in believers a consciousness and integrity of character which strongly marks them as a class.

And with this there is a spirit of self-sacrifice and duty; so that the followers of Christ are ready to spend and be spent "counting not even their own lives dear to them" if they may finish their course with the joy of an approving conscience and the applause of God. The fountain of all this duty and sacrifice is love to God. There is therefore with a common zeal a similar craving for the ordinances of worship as the expression of that love and the means of loving communion with God. Christianity without the ordinances of public and private devotion would be a monstrous thing—an impossibility. God himself has therefore provided the means. In details indeed of administration there may be difference in measure, as there may be in minor details of theoretical truth; but the general fact remains that all pious souls love the refreshment of the divinely appointed means of grace.

With this love to God pervading all Christian hearts is closely blended love to men and and chief of all love to the brethren.

These common characteristics of the children of God would be incomplete without that most marked principle, faith in Christ. To his revered name every knee bows and every tongue confesses. His presence dwells in every heart. Jesus was God manifested in the flesh and born the babe of Bethlehem, that by His life, His obedience and His death upon the cross, He might redeem His chosen from every kindred and nation and tongue and people. To that ransomed throng, whether from the North, South, East or West, no feeling is exaggerated of faith or love toward Christ. And it is a common feeling. "He loved us; and washed us in His blood." There is a divine harmony in the Church's faith and love toward her Lord, whether it is the expression of worship of the dweller beneath the palm or him who lives amidst frost and snows, the denizen of populous cities or the nomad of the plains. Nor is it confined within the narrow limits of a few denominations, whether weak or powerful. It is the common feeling of the universal Church of God.

Such is the unity among His followers, as I conceive, for which Christ prayed and which is to lead the world at last to believe upon Him. It is to be noticed that

II. This unity is visible.

By this I mean it has its obvious external marks and signs. Without these it could not be discerned by the world; its evidence for Christ would be lost; no conviction could possibly be produced. There is nothing plainer than that our Master intended such a unity as should be seen in order to convert the world to belief in the divinity of his mission. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they alone may be one; as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." But it is equally plain that Jesus meant no mere unity in external rites or works independently of that internal and spiritual unity that precedes it in order at once of existence and importance. The unity is not an outward shell, empty within. It is not a sham and pretence. It is not a disguise or mockery, with the weak hope thereby to impose upon a credulous world. Indeed such a thing could not be. It is, therefore, simply the outward and obvious expression of a Christianity internal, spiritual, vital. It is this honest outlook of a genuine Christianity that compels the world's reverence and faith for Christ.

Christians may belong to various departments of the church external; but if the world shall behold them, of whatever name of whatever clime and tongue, moved by the same reverence for the sacred word, with conscientious integrity obeying its precepts in duties and sacrifices, showing their love for God by devout observance of Sabbaths and ordinances, and their love for their fellow Christians and their fellow men by deeds of charity and benevolence, mingled with an expressed and manifest fealty to Christ, then it recognized the proof that Christianity is divine. It comes with convincing power—"Whence amidst all these causes of difference is there yet such unity? How could all these have this common likeness if there be no mighty, no superhuman cause? There must be a common image into which they have drunk, and these must be divine."

Verily, this marvelous unity in men of different races and climes, and even of separate portions of the host must indicate that their master is of God.

III. But this unity is not organic. Believers are certainly one, and that by external tokens, notwithstanding the fact that the church exists in separate departments and denominations.

There is an enthusiasm after union in our day which is impatient of contradiction. To such enthusiasm this proposition will appear to be a profound error. I announce it, therefore, deliberately and seriously as my conviction of the truth of God. I do so not to justify schism; not to plead for the perpetuation of divisions existing in the church without cause; not to depreciate unity of organization within such limits as may best enable the Church to do her Lord's work, but to vindicate the right of private judgment, and the prerogatives of free churches of Christ that are not amenable to others, but alone to their Lord and Savior, to assert a true visible unity better than organic, that likely to be overlooked if not ignored; and therefore pronounce the shema of organic union in the present stage of the Church's existence in the world, a purley Eutopian idea from which, however, as a calamity, we are happily destined to be saved by the fact that it is utterly impracticable.

The enthusiastic advocate of organic unity will admit there are difficulties in the way of union. If there were nothing else there are some diverse views of doctrines, and some various modes of government and of worship which must be reconciled, and what is not to be concealed is that the differences are not always of preference, but of conscientious conviction. The former might be surrendered; what of the latter? Now I put the question to the enthusiast for ecclesiastical unity, "who is to make the sacrifices needed for union?" Will he do it? He replies he cannot surrender conscience, and we applaud him for it. He could not be a Christian without conscience. But is not every other Christian's conscience as precious and as necessary to him? I think with this puzzling question to be answered, "who shall make the sacrifices which are required to effect this unity?" we might dismiss the subject, for it is a question to which no answer can be agreed upon by evangelical denominations of Christendom till the Millennium's dawn.

But I might also ask this question and wait for an answer. If the unity for which Jesus prayed and which is to convert the world is organic unity, why has the great High Priest's prayer remained unanswered for 1840 years? Also, why during all that period of the church's history has she existed wholly in separate departments and denominations? Further; why is Christianity purest and its power for the conversion of the world felt the most in, what is called by way of derision, its "sects?"

But I might also ask the ardent advocate of an organic unity that is to obliterate all denominational distinctions from the church of God to consider the similitude presented by Christ of the union for which he prayed, and see if it warrants this war upon the individualities of separate churches. The Savior utters the prayer that his followers may be one after the example of the Divine unity; and what is that? It is not a unity without a distinction of personalities. "I pray," says Christ, "that they all may be one as thou Father art in me and I in thee; that they may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." There are three persons in the Godhead. The spirit of aggrandizement may be intolerant of dissent; an unwise but well intended zeal may demand the abolition of denominations, and desire the destruction of the personalities of Protestant churches in order to establish a consolidated unity; but the unity for which Jesus himself prayed—even if it were unity of the church which he intended—is a unity after a different example.

But I proceed to the direct argument.

1. I assert that there can be no ecclesiastical organization without a government to represent it; and, in the present state of the church in the world, the government of the entire church as an organic unity would be impossible. The principal is true of all human administration. It would be equally impossible to exercise civil as ecclesiastical government over an immense multitude of human beings, scattered across various continents, islands and zones. Human ability is not adequate to the vast requirements of such an administration; the very force of numbers defies and limits the governing power of man. The distant territories of his empires tend to independence; and, after certain limits of development are reached, better govern themselves than they can be governed by any central power. To this principle the Church is no exception. Nay if it were possible, it would not be wise to submit the government of the Church or world to such a system. Both are better governed when governed by the powers that operate within narrowed limits. God, therefore, in accordance with the nature He has given man, has established corresponding limitations upon his powers in the constitution of the great globe itself. To prevent misrule, to confine human ambition within the limits of human ability, He has made th world too vast and the antipodes too distant. He has severed lands from each other by mountain ranges, by gulfs, and by what the Roman poet called "the unsocial sea." He has divided men though made of one blood, into nations, and has appointed before time the very bounds of their habitation. The vast ocean with its long wastes of waters protests against such unity as an impracticable thing. The lofty mountain peaks stand as pillars to witness against such a conception as a folly. A church there shall be; but enthusiasm on the one hand and ambition on the other, must accept the inexorable fact that it must be a church that shall have many departments.

I need not say how wonderfully God's providence corroborates his decree in nature, so that the confusion of tongues divides and scatters human empires as surely as do vastness of distance and the mighty barriers of nature.

The force of modern Christian civilization may do much to ameliorate what is difficult and hard in human relations. The rail and the locomotive may join in one the extreme shores of vast empires and bring together the sunrise and the sunset from their distant places. And continents may converse with each other across the ocean by means of the telegraph, as though seated side by side. All these things shall aid the progress of our race. They shall assist nations to dwell together in peace and help the church in all her various departments to unite her effort for the world's conversion. But, while the constitution of man and nature remains the same, there can be no consolidation of power in merely human hands.

Of course these difficulties in the way of organic unity belong to the present stage of the church's existence in the world. Be it that Christ shall reign in person, these difficulties shall vanish. But short of this they remain. Nay, we may doubt if even inspiration were ever intended to fit men for this government of a universal church. We may gravely doubt if inspired Apostles could agree in such a work. On the interpretation and administration of a principle Paul withstood Peter to the face before all his fellows. On the mere assignment of a minister to his field of labor, the great Apostle of the Gentiles and Barnabas differed, and the contention was so sharp between them that they parted asunder and chose their paths of service in different lands.

2. My second direct argument against the theory of organic unity is that it is irreconcilably at war with the Protestant principle of the right of private judgment. To this private judgment Christ and his Apostles make their appeal. "Search the Scriptures," says Jesus. "I speak unto you as unto wise men," says Paul; "judge ye what I say." The Bereans were noble in searching the Scriptures and exercising their judgment on it to see if what even an inspired Apostle said were so. But there is no just room for private judgment if it must yield to the decrees of an organic unity without the final resort of separation. The theory I combat places things in false relations. It exalts the church above Christianity. It makes the unity of an outward organization of more importance than the integrity of Christian souls. The reverse of all this is correct. The church was designed to conserve Christianity, not to fetter and dwarf it. The kernel is better than the husk; religion is better than the church; faith in the soul is better than the letter of a creed, or the forms of devotion. These latter are all important for the purpose for which they were designed, and nothing more. The Church is precious and sacred; but not to usurp Christ's place and lord it over human consciences. Hence the free spirit of Christianity has segregated itself into denominations. These free Churches of Jesus Christ maintaining reverence for the Divine Word and making to it their sole and final appeal, are the organized expression of this private judgment. An organic unity would be dearly bought that would be purchased at the price of their existence.

3. My third direct argument against organic unity is the argument from History.

The doctrine of organic unity is not a novelty nor tho attempt to establish it an untried experiment. The past unfolds to us its pages; and we would be unwise indeed if we did not learn their lessons. Those lessons make neither the theory or practice lovely. Let us briefly advert to their teachings.

D'Aubigne, the great modern historian of the reformation, says:

"The doctrine of 'the Church' and of necessity for its visible unity,' which had found footing as early as the third century favored the pretensions of Rome. The great bond which originally bound together the members of the Church was a living faith in the heart by which all were joined to Christ as their one Head. But various causes ere long conspired to originate and develop the idea of a necessity for some exterior fellowship."

And so, as history proceeds to show, grew up the idea of unity of organization and central power. Dissent was not to be tolerated. Separation from the "Church Catholic," even tho' there never had been union with it, was schism. And for schism were eventually provided the cures of the dungeon, the gallows and the stake. "The Living Church retired by degrees to the lonely sanctuary of a few solitary souls; an exterior church was substituted in the place of it; and installed in all its forms as of divine institution." (D'Aubigne's Ref. Introduction.) And to establish this unity and by it professedly to convince the world that the mission of Christ was divine, Christ's professed ministers transformed themselves into very fiends of cruelty against God's saints. That which claimed to be "The Church," became the grand enemy of Christianity. The heart aches to think of the plaintive cries to God from hunted fugitives in the wilderness; of the groans of victims broken on the wheel; of lives worn out in weary dungeons; of souls freed from the bonds of clay by the flames of a fiery martyrdom, with horrors of torture which make the blood curdle at their recital. Though these fearful fruits of the doctrine of unity are found thickest as we approach the era of the Reformation, yet the principle began to develop its tendencies in the church early. "Persecution—powerless to destroy or even to shake the new community—compressed it into the form of a more compacted unity. * * * The form and vital principle parted asunder. The semblance of identical external organization was gradually substituted in place of the internal and spiritual unity which is the very essence of a religion proceeding from God." (D'Aubigne.)

It is obvious that as organic unity made progress, spirituality declined; pitiless cruelty toward free consciences took the place of christian charity; the tribunals of the church assumed to punish dissent with civil pains and penalties and whole lands were turned into hunting grounds for proselyting troopers and drenched with the blood of Christ's saints—and all this in the name of "the Church," and to vindicate the organic unity, and thus to prove that Christianity is heaven-born.

Nor is it the Church of Rome only to whom the theory of organic union and its corresponding practice must be charged. Let the Baptists, Covenanters and Quakers tell their bloody history and see if it is a dogma that commends itself to our love by the fruits it has borne, even when advocated and enforced by Protestant powers.

But let us consider some objections.

Against these arguments and in favor of organic unity, it is urged that the existence of these separate denominations in the church is discreditable.

Certainly there are cases which are so. Assuredly every unnecessary division is reprehensible. But in most instances there are separate denominations simply because there are questions unsettled upon which agreement is absolutely needed in order to a harmonious and successful co-operation. Discreditable as separation may be in such cases, there is one thing more discreditable, namely, inevitable strife, with its bitter fruits, within the limits of the same profession and the same organization. And hence oftimes separation is the very means of greater harm ny and efficiency.

On the supposition that these divisions are discreditable, and wholly so, it is urged that they may be easily reconciled by forbearance extending to all points of difference.

That forbearance is needed even to maintain the integrity of the smaller segments of the Church of Christ will be admitted. It has its salutary uses; but it cannot infringe on the domain of individual conscience. Conscience is supreme, and must for each one determine what may be forborne. But has it never struck the minds of those who imagine forbearance the panacea of division that there are practical questions which no forbearance can reach? Who is to forbear as between the Presbyterian and Episcopalian? The Church as an organic unity cannot be both one and the other. Who is to forbear as between the Baptist and the Paedo-Baptist? The Church, organically one, cannot at once pronounce immersion the only mode of baptism and yet admit those who are sprinkled to its communion; nor can she authorize all modes if she would meet the requirements of the Baptist's faith. The Church as a unit cannot at once ignore and admit the membership of infants. These are a few of the practical differences which will inevitably require the Church to maintain separate organizations. The wisest advocate of unity will in vain perplex himself to find a common ground for a practicable unity.

I know of no other method which will be urged to "heal divisions" in the Church, unless it be to submit them to the decisions of majorities, in their Synods and Councils, and let the weaker yield.

This would have been a convenient principle to be applied in many a trying hour of the Church's past history. Many a name would have been missed from the shining roll of martyrs had it been used to relieve the perplexities and anguish of their lot.

But the Christian reverence and love for the truth of God does not stand in its carrying the suffrages of vast majorities. God never made human numbers the test of his truth. That truth cannot be decided by votes. Unions thus effected must yet stand the ordeal of a higher tribunal, established by God himself in the breast of each Christian whose interests are involved. A union only attained by force of numbers will not heal divisions, because it will not silence dissent or prevent separation. Nor can a unity thus attained command the respect of the world.

But let me, in the close, show how union may be best promoted.

1. Let all Christians love, study and practice the truth with more earnest zeal. It is the truth, the truth of God's word, that sanctifies and unites—human errors divide. Let the truth of God's most holy word heal the divisions that are sinful and disgraceful, and mould us into one. Let not union of any sort be sought by sacifice of the word. It is not God's plan. A union so attained is not that for which Jesus prayed.

2. Let us all seek to be like Christ in character and life. We shall then be moulded into the same image and attain an obvious unity that shall charm and attract the world, and help to produce conviction that our Master and his system are from God.

3. And let us not, in an effort for an impracticable union, ignore and seem to deny the union real, Catholic and visible that now subsists between the children of the divine family—the great brotherhood of evangelical Christendom. They may have their differences. They may have their discussions on their causes, deep and earnest. But, thank God, they have a substantial argument in their "one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and in one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all."

4. And last of all, Fathers and Brethren, as an organized unity in narrower bounds, a small section of that universal Church which Christ has purchased with his precious blood, realizing that we hold our authority from Him, as our Head, and not by the favor of man, let us address ourselves to the duties of our allotted work. And let us remember that mere external unities require the embellishment and the grace of brotherly agreement and fraternal love. Let us cultivate these even within our own especial borders, and pray that God may shed their practical blessings upon us, so they shall be "as the dew that descended on Hermon, or as the dew that descended on Zion where God commands the blessing, even life for evermore."

FORMAL ORGANIZATION.

At the conclusion of the sermon, Dr. Brown said:

"It becomes my duty, by authority of the General Assembly which met at Monmouth one year ago, to constitute this as a General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, at this time and in this place. This, then, will be now done by calling upon our Savior and Guide, Jesus Christ, our Lord, in prayer. Let us pray."

The Assembly then rose, when the Moderator prayed earnestly that the spirit of wisdom and charity and love might rest upon them, and that the glory of His name might be greatly magnified by the results of the General Assembly, in the proceedings of which they were about to participate.

The Moderator then stated that it was usual at this stage to close the exercises of the evening session, to meet again at the morning session for the election of a new Moderator and complete organization. The Assembly, if they wished, however, could proceed with business.

A motion was made and carried, that the Assembly adjourn to meet this morning at nine o'clock.

Dr. John G. Brown made an announcement in reference to the entertainment of the delegates. A meeting of the Associate Synod was also announced for this afternoon, at half-past one o'clock, in the basement of the church.

The Assembly then adjourned after singing the 133rd Psalm and benediction by Dr. R. A. Brown.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Among those in attendance last evening deserving of especial mention, was the Moderator, Rev. Dr. R. A. Brown, President of Westminster College—a gentleman of marked ability, as is evidenced by his masterly discourse given above. In personal appearance he is tall and slender, with black hair, whiskers and moustache, slightly tinged with gray. In expression he gives the impression of intellect and scholarly power in a high degree. Besides being an excellent writer he is an impressive speaker, and engages the attention of his hearers throughout. He is about forty-five years of age, though study has made him look older, at the first glance.

Rev. T. S. Kendall, who opened the proceedings with prayer, is another noted minister—one who has had an eventful history. A memorable instance in his life was a tarring and feathering to which he was subjected in South Carolina about the year 1840, for outspoken opposition to slavery. This was in the earlier years of his ministry. His appearance gives every indication of force of mind and character. Fully six feet in heighth, straight as an arrow, with a well knit, broad and stout frame, and a very muscular development, together with a sound intellect, he seems just the champion for an unpopular but righteous cause. His face is clean shaven, which gives full expression to a firmly set mouth and square chin, in contrast with a high, broad forehead, deep-set eyes, shaggy eyebrows, and thin white hair covering a head which a phrenologist would pronounce almost perfect. Twenty-five years ago he "struck out" for Oregon, and at Albany organized a church, with which he has ever since been connected. He is about seventy years of age, and one of the most popular and beloved fathers of the Assembly.

The missionary work was represented by the Rev. J. C. Nevin, for the past ten years engaged in his sacred calling at Canton, China. He arrived in the city on Tuesday and is being hospitably entertained at the residence of Mr. W. Edie, of Allegheny, one of the most active lay members of the denomination.

In strong men intellectually the Assembly will not suffer in comparison with any similar gathering which has ever convened in Pittsburgh.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS.

To the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, to meet at Pittsburgh, Pa., May 25th, 1870:

The Board of Home Missions held its eleventh annual meeting at Pittsburgh, Pa., beginning May 17th, 1870. Fifty-one delegates were present, all the Presbyteries being represented, except Chillicothe, Egypt, San Francisco, Sealkote and St. Lawrence. The meeting was unusually pleasant and harmonious. Many difficult and delicate matters were warmly discussed, but there was nothing to interrupt the general current of good feeling. Though all the decisions of the Board were not unanimous, the minority cheerfully acquiesced in the will of the majority. After having patiently considered the interests specially committed to us, it was agreed to present the following report, which, it is hoped, will meet with your approbation:

PART I—THE PRESENT YEAR.

The following facts, with reference to the work of the present year, have been gathered from the report of the Executive Committee, and they may be of interest to the Assembly:

1. The Progress of the Work.—We have to report no remarkable manifestations of the power of the Divine Spirit during the year. The good work has been progressing slowly but steadily. As a general rule, the missionaries have fulfilled the appointments of the Assembly, and the missions have been prospered. In a few stations there is great discouragement. The failure of the crops, emigration to the west, and the organization of new congregations, have weakened some that were already weak. But in most instances, the growth of our mission stations has been equal to the average growth of our self-sustaining congregations. This will appear from the following statistics: The last Assembly granted aid to 140 stations; from 14 of these no report has been received. The reports of a number of other stations embrace only a portion of the year. In the 126 stations from which reports have been received, there is a membership of 1,557, with an average attendance of 14,091. There have been 677 added to the church on the profession of their faith, and 1,018 on certificate from other congregations. During the same time, there has been a decrease of 322. In the Sabbath Schools connected with these stations, there are 6,944 children receiving spiritual instruction. These stations have contributed $5,816 to the Boards of the Church, and $39,457 towards the support of their pastors and missionaries. These figures speak for themselves. They must commend the Home Mission work to the fostering care of the Church. In what department of missionary labor could more apparent good be done with the same expenditure of means?

All the appropriations made by the last Assembly, so far as they have become due, have been granted except in a few instances, in which the condition has not been fulfilled. The Executive Committee have made the following grants out of the money left in their hands to meet emergencies:

Conemaugh Presbytery, Johnstown, $1,000; Bloomington Presbytery, Pana, $150; Chicago Presbytery, Ross Grove, $50; Western Missouri Presbytery, Holden, $75; Boston Presbytery, 3d Church, Boston, $200; Tennessee Presbytery, Dickson, $250, for the second six months. Of the $200 granted to the 3d Church, Boston, but $41.66 have been called for.

2. Financial Condition of the Board.—There is money enough on hand to pay all claims against the Board up to April 1st, 1870, and leave a small balance in the Treasury. From the Treasurer's report it will be seen that, during the year ending April 30th, he has received $28,177.24, and disbursed $25,763.20.

3. Special Missions.—There are two missions to which particular attention was directed by the last Assembly, and which therefore demand special mention, viz: Chicago and Indianapolis.

Chicago: Rev. R. A. McAyeal, who was appointed to this place by the Assembly, felt constrained to decline the appointment, and the Executive Committee appointed Rev. J. M. Baugh in his stead. Mr. Baugh entered upon his labors in Chicago about the middle of the first quarter. The congregation have purchased a valuable lot, and erected on the rear of the lot a temporary church, which they are occupying for the present. They are making an effort to erect a substantial church, but only a small part of the $10,000 appropriated by the Assembly has been collected. It is confidently believed that a little pecuniary aid, in the way of erecting a church edifice, would place our cause in Chicago on a firm footing.

Indianapolis: Nothing has been done in Indianapolis. Our cause in this city remains as it was a year ago.

PART II—THE COMING YEAR.

The amount of money asked for the coming year was $44,450; but the Board felt constrained to cut down the appropriations as much as possible. After weighing the necessities of the several missions stations, aid was granted to the amount of $35,331, of which $11,650 is conditional. The Presbyteries have placed seventy-seven missionaries at the disposal of the Board for the coming year, and have asked for the services of eighty-five. The names of the mission stations, and the amount of aid granted to each, the names of the missionaries, and the Presbyteries to which they have been assigned, are herewith reported.

4.—MISSIONARIES REFERRED TO THEIR OWN PRESBYTERIES.

E. A. Brownlee, J. A. Devine, J. R. McClintock, A. Pattison.

5. SPECIAL MISSIONS.

The following action was taken with reference to the Special Missions, whose claims were considered by the Board.

St. Louis Mission.—Resolved, 1. That the mission be referred to the Presbytery of St. Louis.

2. That the station be recommended to the Board of Church Extension for aid to the amount of $2,000.

3. That the Executive Committee be authorized to appoint a missionary when the house is erected.

4. That $500 be appropriated for the support of a missionary for the second six months.

Topeka.—Inasmuch as Topeka, Kansas, is a city of about nine thousand inhabitants, without any organization of our Church; and inasmuch as there are about twenty-five members asking for an organization and promising $300 to sustain the cause there, thereby giving an encouraging prospect, and inasmuch as it is the capital of the State and a fast growing city; therefore Resolved. 1. That $700 be granted to this place on condition of stated supply.

2. That Rev. H. P. McAdams, of Troy, N. Y., be appointed missionary to this field.

Northwestern Frontier.—After carefully considering the present pressing claims and extent of this field, we would recommend the appointment of a missionary to explore the field under the direction of the Presbytery of Minnesota.

We would also recommend Rev. R. G. Wallace as a missionary to take charge of this field, with a salary at the rate of $500 for six months.

Oregon.—The following were recommended for appointment as missionaries to Oregon: Rev. W. R. Stewart to Salem, and Rev. D. M. Thorne to Corrallis and connections; and the Executive Committee was authorized to give each missionary an outfit not exceeding $400, to bear the traveling expenses to the field.

PART III—MISCELLANEOUS RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Board would recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That when an appropriation is made to a place in which there is a settled minister, it be regarded as on "condition of settlement," and ceases when the relation is dissolved.

2. That a committee, consisting of Revs. A. G. Wallace, D. M. B. McLean, J. G. Brown, D.D., and the Corresponding Secretary, be appointed to revise the regulations of the Board, and report to the Board next year.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board,
D. S. McHENRY, Chairman.
A. G. Wallace, Asst. Sec.,
William J. Reid, Cor. Sec.

THE FENIANS.

The Present Movement the Source of Dissatisfaction—The Border Crossed and Fighting Reported Commenced—Reports from Various Quarters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 25.—From what can be gathered in well-informed Fenian circles, it appears that General O'Neill has sent orders to all parts of the country ordering the soldiers of the Irish Republican Army in this city and the Eastern States to meet at St. Albans, and those living west to move eastward toward Malone—all to assemble in the neighborhood of the Vermont and New York frontier. It is said the entire movement is made against the wishes of the present Executive Council and the legislative branch of the Fenian Brotherhood, and contrary to the judgment of the members of President O'Neil's Cabinet. Well known and zealous Fenians say they have worked for years in gathering large supplies of arms and ammunition, which during the last six months have been sent to the Canada border, all now to be frittered away and wasted in the present premature proceeding. Dissatisfaction is the consequence, and disaster and defeat are expected. Only about one thousand men are said to be marching on Canada, and that forty-five Fenians only left this city on the 11 o'clock train Monday evening. The officers in command of the present raid are General O'Neil, Colonel Donnelly, Colonel Lewis, Colonel Clingan and Colonel Le Caron. The Vermont regiment is commanded by Colonel Lewis. The Red River expedition was authorized by the entire Brotherhood and those troops are acting under the direction of the Executive Council. They are now organizing, it is reported, to meet the force which the Canadian government is sending to the Red River country. General Gleason, it is understood, does not approve of the present action of General O'Neill.

Notwithstanding the opposition of the Executive Council, and the indifference of the Savage branch of the Fenian Brotherhood, it was rumored that during yesterday not less than five hundred men, with their officers, left by the several trains from this city for the borders.

Special dispatches report the United States steamer Michigan at Port Colbourne, to assist in protecting the Welland Canal. No doubt the Fenians are crossing near Malone, and will probably cross thence into Canada.

Gen. O'Neill Across the Border—He Will Conquer or Die.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., May 25.—It is reported that General O'Neill crossed the lines to Canada last night at eight o'clock. The troops are moving in two columns, one upon St. Johns and the other in the direction of Richmond. The utmost consternation prevails in Canada, owing to the want of preparation for defence. O'Neill is reported to have said while crossing the line, "I'll never recross the lines unless victorious or a corpse." Eight hundred and fifty Fenians occupy the same camp at Franklin as last year, and eight hundred at Malone. Great excitement prevails in this vicinity. The track is reported torn up between Warmand and St. Alexander, and it is feared an open outbreak will take place to-day. Trains with recruits are constantly arriving. There are no United States troops here. It is said that the greatest excitement exists in Montreal and throughout the Dominion.

REPORTS FROM VARIOUS QUARTERS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTREAL, May 25.—News received confirms the belief that the Fenians have determined on a movement on the eastern frontier. A large number of men are assembled and parading close to the lines. They had pickets on patrol a mile from Pigeon Hill at noon, and shortly before that a special train was at Pottsdam Junction with two hundred and fifty armed Fenians on their way to St. Albans to move on St. Armands centre through Pigeon Hill. The Fenians are also said to have cut the telegraph wires at White Hall, and the latest report is that they have actually crossed the frontier in force. Instructions were sent Gen. Lindsey to take active steps for the defense of the frontier. A considerable force left here yesterday afternoon for the frontier under command of Lieut. Col. Smith.

The Fenians in the West.

CHICAGO, May 25.—At a Fenian meeting last night money was raised, and crowds are busy circulating subscriptions for more. It is positively stated that one hundred men left here last night for the front, and that five hundred more go to-day. The Chicago Fenians are becoming in harmony with those in the East, and it is stated that a demonstration will be made in the East and West simultaneously. The Fenian authorities here claim to know that there are but three thousand troops in Canada.

Sensation at Fenian Headquarters.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The news from the Canadian border creates great sensation here. The Fenian headquarters are nearly deserted. The number of men who have left here is stated at eight thousand, and it is claimed seven or eight thousand more were enlisted to-day. Rumor says Fitzhugh Lee is to command the Fenians, and has already gone to the front. Other Southern officers leave here to-night for Canada.

The latest report is that seven hundred United States troops have started for the border.

Canadians Defeated in a Skirmish.

Telegrams from St. Albans say: At a late hour last night the Fenian force concentrated at Franklin moved forward and entered Canada, threw out pickets and waited till daylight, when they advanced upon Freligsburg, where they were met by a force of Canadian volunteers. A skirmish resulted in the defeat of the Canadians, who lost several killed and wounded. Four extra trains arrived this morning loaded with Fenians, who left at once for the front.

Gathering of Forces at Ogdensburg and St. Albans.

OGDENSBURG, May 25.—Five hundred Fenians with arms, and between seventy-five and one hundred wagons containing ammunition and military stores, passed through Massena last night and this morning, going toward Hogansburgh. Four hundred Fenians arrived at Watertown last night and this morning.

The number of Fenians at St. Albans is estimated at 1,500 to 1,800. Colonel Mosby, ex-Confederate guerrilla, is there, organizing cavalry.

The Plan of Campaign.

The Fenian plan of the campaign is said to be to send out small parties of cavalry to harrass the border at various points, thus distracting the attention of the Canadian forces, while the main body of Fenians will make a grand attack in some unexpected quarter.

General O'Neill Arrested by U. S. Authorities—A Fenian Repulse.

TORONTO, May 25.—News has been received here that General O'Neill was arrested by the United authorities, and is now lodged in St. Albans.

The Fenians attacked the home guard at Crooks' Corners, but were repulsed, with the loss of several killed and wounded. No losses on the Canadian side.

Movement of Canadian Troops—Fenians Entrenching at Pigeon Hill.

MONTREAL, May 25.—Latest dispatches state the Fenians are at Trout river, in Huntingdon county, intending to cross. Six hundred volunteers leave for the front at noon. The Sixty-ninth regiment is expected at four o'clock from Quebec.

Fenians to the number of three thousand are at Pigeon Hill, and throwing up entrenchments. Col. Russell and the Prince Consort's Own Rifles have gone to the front, with the Montreal volunteers, to attack the entrenchments. Prince Arthur goes with this regiment, in Col. Russell's staff. Col. Osborne Smith, in command of the volunteers, goes as an advance guard.

The Fenian movement will not interfere with the Red River Expedition. Great satisfaction is expressed at President Grant's proclamation.

A battery of artillery has just left for the front, and all other troops in the city are ready to move at a moment's notice. The volunteers all respond with the utmost readiness.

It is thought the military authorities will not attempt to check the invaders near the border, but allow them to come in some distance in order to get a good chance at them.

The Advance in Possession of Pigeon Hill—Raid on Grand Trunk Railroad.

BOSTON, May 25.—Reports have been received at Fenian headquarters that the advance guard, under Captain Monagan, of Burlington, Vt., crossed the border this forenoon and took possession of Pigeon Hill, the Sixtieth Rifles falling back without firing a gun. General Donnelly is in command of the invading column, which had not yet advanced.

A raid had been made on the Grand Trunk Railroad, fifteen miles above Island Pond and five miles from the border, and two hundred and thirty rails torn up in order to stop and capture a cattle train now on the way to Boston.

The Movements at Detroit.

DETROIT, 10 P. M., May 25.—The Fenian movements in this vicinity have been so quietly conducted that it is impossible to obtain positively reliable intelligence. A movement in some direction is certainly on foot. Not less than one hundred men left the city last night and another detachment will probably go to-night. Their most probable destination is towards Bay City. Great efforts are being made among the Fenians to raise money, and it is thought they have been moderately successful.

Dominion Government Fully Advised.

TORONTO, May 25.—Considerable excitement still exists in regard to the Fenian raid, but the Government appears well advised of all movements and fully prepared for any attempts at invasion. The volunteer forces are prepared to move at once, if required.

Reported Heavy Fighting Going On.

ALBANY, May 25.—A report is received, dated St. Albans, Vt., 4 P. M., that heavy fighting has been going on near Franklin since noon between the forces under General O'Neill and the Canadian militia.

U. S. Regulars for Ogdensburg—Lack of Transportation for the Fenians.

OTTAWA, May 25.—The United States Government has one hundred and fifty regular troops on the way to Ogdensburg. Four hundred Fenians were left behind to-day at Rome for want of accommodation.

The men of the garrison artillery and two guns of field artillery leave this afternoon for Prescott.

Canadian Force at Prescott.

PRESCOTT, May 25.—A large force of volunteers, including artillery, are under arms here.

Cornwall to be Attacked.

OGDENSBURG, May 25.—It is reported the Fenians contemplate an attack on Cornwall, Canada.

The Raid Unauthorized.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25—Jas. Gibbons, President of the Executive Council of the Fenian Brotherhood, states the present so-called raid upon Canada is unauthorized by the Fenian Brotherhood, being merely a personal enterprise by irresponsible parties.

Fighting Actually Commenced at Pigeon Hill.

OTTAWA, May 25.—Intelligence is received that fighting has actually commenced between the troops and Fenians at Pigeon Hill.

Excitement at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, May 25.—The Fenian excitement is increasing. The train eastward this evening took three car loads; two of them came from the West. It is stated a large number will go to-morrow.

More U. S. Troops for the Border—Fenian Officers En Route.

POUGHKEEPSIE, May 25.—Batteries C and M, First United States Artillery, Col. Langdon commanding, passed here to-night going north en route to Ogdensburg. Fenian Maj. Gen. Gleason and staff were on the same train. Battery B, First Artillery, Maj. Frank Layton in command, passed here on another train.

Gen. Davis, of cavalry fame during the war, also passed north to-night. It is rumored he is taking an important Fenian command.

Advance to the Border—Speech by Gen. O'Neill to His Troops.

ST. ALBANS, May 25.—About half-past eleven o'clock this forenoon, the Fenians, who had been for several hours previous busy unpacking their arms and otherwise getting ready for action at Hubbard's Corner, one-half mile beyond Franklin, took up the line of march, and when they arrived near the house of Alvan Richards, about twenty rods this side the border, they halted, and Gen. O'Neill made the following speech:

Soldiers: This is the advance guard of the Irish-American army for the liberation of Ireland from the yoke of the oppressor. For your own country you now enter that of the enemy. The eyes of your countrymen are upon you. Forward, march!

Response by the Advance Commander.

The advance company was from Burlington and commanded by Captain William Cronan, of that city. At the conclusion of O'Neill's address he lifted his hat and replied:

General: I am proud that Vermont has the honor of leading this advance. Ireland may depend upon us to do our duty.

The Advance—An Attack—Sharp Fight.

The advance was then resumed by flank in the open road, and as Captain Cronan's company passed Richards' house and were descending a little hill towards the line, they were surprised by a sharp volley from some Canadian troops, whose position had been concealed. The fire was instantly returned by Cronan's men, and quite a sharp fire kept up for some time. The Canadians were posted behind rocks and trees, and had of course the advantage of the Boys in Green. It is reported one Fenian was killed and Captain Cronan wounded in the thigh. The skirmish was witnessed by quite a number of citizens.

Arrest of Gen. O'Neill by U. S. Marshal.

United States Marshal Foster and Deputy Marshal Faily took commanding positions part of the way up the hill and were under fire all the time. About one o'clock, when O'Neill had gone to the right of his command, General Foster had his close carriage brought to a near position and immediately arrested General O'Neill by virtue of the President's proclamation. The General said he refused to be arrested and that he had forces which he would use for his protection. The United States Marshal, seeing a lot of Fenians close at hand, threw open the carriage door and with the help of Failey thrust the Fenian leader into a back seat. The officials leaped into their seats, and their horses left in hot haste.

Sent to Burlington, Vt.

The General arrived at the Welden House in this village at four o'clock. He was soon arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Jacob M. Smalley, for a violation of the neutrality laws. He waived an examination, and in default of $20,000 bail was taken to Burlington this evening to be committed.

Fenian Ardor Dampened.

The arrest of Gen. O'Neill has fallen like a wet blanket on the Fenians, and reports from the front this evening say they are badly demoralized.

More Powder than Men.

The Fenians fought well, but it is evident they were not reinforced as they expected. There cannot be at the outside about the place where the skirmish took place more than 500 men, whereas amunition for four times that number had been provided.

It is reported many are already on the way back to St. Albans to take transportation for home. The half past six o'clock train from the south this evening landed here about 120 more men, who immediately took their departure.

Scene at St. Albans.

The streets of St. Albans presented a lively scene to-night. Knots of men are gathered about, discussing the news, and speculating as to the probable result of the Fenian movement.

It is reported that several companies of British regulars from Quebec had arrived in Montreal, and will be sent forward to the front as rapidly as possible. Great excitement prevails in Montreal and all along the border.

Unless the Fenians are at once heavily reinforced, the movement, as far as this section is concerned, will prove a very great fizzle.

Killed Two—Wounded Two.

Later intelligence places the number of killed at two, and wounded two. One of the killed is Lieut. Murry, of Boston, the other a Burlington boy, name not obtained.

Arrival of U. S. Troops.

Company "G," 5th United States heavy artillery, Capt. Richard Arnold commanding, stationed at Plattsburg, arrived here and pitched their tents on the north side of the park. More United States troops are expected to-morrow, and it is rumored Gen. Meade will soon make his appearance.

Another Reverse to the Raiders—Seizure of Ammunition.

MONTREAL, May 25.—The following is received from the frontier: The Fenians attacked Col. Smith's outposts at Freligsburg. About one hundred men, Fenians, advanced in column with an advance guard of about two hundred strong. Our men repulsed the attack. Fenian loss, three killed and several wounded. Canadian loss, so far, none. The Fenians were not fired on until they crossed the line.

Later.—The Fenians have fallen back. Between two and three hundred left Portland for Island Pond this morning. The United States authorities seized twenty-six packages of arms at Portland.

Demonstrations Elsewhere.

There is a Fenian demonstration towards Huntington. From three hundred to five hundred men marched to Trout river, but the Canadian volunteers are ready to receive them. Other Fenian squads with arms and ammunition are marching rapidly in direction of Trout river.

The Brotherhood in New York Harmonizing—Rapid Enlistments.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The actual opening of hostilities has allayed, temporarily at least, the differences among the Fenians here. Prominent leaders of the Savage wing are organizing a regiment to leave for the border. At least 6,000 volunteers were enrolled here to-day. At Hibernia Hall 500 men were enrolled within five hours.

It is stated positively to-day that 1,500 left different points along the border. Five hundred started to-night on the Hudson River Railroad in charge of Vice President Egan, of the O'Neill branch of the Brotherhood. St. Albans is the destination of the majority. Large sums are being subscribed in aid of the cause.

The Jersey Fenians Moving.

The Fenians are moving in New Jersey. A party of one hundred men left Paterson and Newark to-day, and Paterson promises one hundred more to-morrow. A party of fifteen also went from Elizabeth this evening.

Still the Fenians Come—Shipments of Treasure Stopped—No Insurance Risks Taken.

BUFFALO, May 25.—Six hundred Fenians left this afternoon and evening for the east. There is quite an influx of Fenians from abroad to-night. No more troops will leave until to-morrow afternoon. Five hundred Canadian volunteers are quartered at the village of Fort Erie opposite this city. Yesterday orders were issued by the express companies not to ship treasure by Canadian routes. The insurance companies have not taken risks on the Welland canal. More Fenians are expected to-night by the Erie Railway, Lake Shore Road and lake steamers.

The Fenians Demoralized.

FRELIGHSBURGH, May 25—6 P. M.—Colonel Smith reports the Fenians still in front, but demoralized. The reported loss of the Fenians is one, a Captain, wounded, twelve killed and missing.

Terrible Murder in Indiana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TERRE HAUTE, May 25.—A horrible murder was committed at Brazil, sixteen miles from this city, this evening at seven o'clock. Two men, named Hawk and Miller, got into a dispute near the depot in regard to a settlement of a claim of seventy-five cents, when Miller stabbed Hawk in the neck with a large butcher knife, severing the jugular vein and causing instant death. The murdered man leaves a wife and six children in destitute circumstances. The murderer is under close arrest, and the wildest excitement prevails. Hawk was a man of good character and much esteemed by his neighbors.

Political Excitement at Richmond, Va.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, May 25.—Both political parties held meetings this evening. The Conservative gathering was addressed by white and colored speakers. The bar-rooms will be closed and the Mayor has taken steps to insure a peaceful election to-morrow. The feeling between the two parties is quite bitter.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1870.

BONDS in Frankfort, 95¾a95⅞.

PETROLEUM in Antwerp, 52¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114¼.

THE Pension and Bounty bills, as reported in the House, involving a disbursement of over six million dollars, will scarcely pass into laws at this session.

WE have, from the Census bureau, a copy of the official instructions to the assistants in the work of enumeration, which is to begin June 1st. We will present an abstract of them to-morrow.

IT IS CLEAR that a reduction of from thirty to fifty millions in the taxes will be provided for before the adjournment of Congress, in some form. There is equally certain to be a sharp contest over the arrangement of the details. In this connection we refer the reader to the remarks of Senator Sherman, printed in another column.

THE LYNCH BILL, for the promotion of our shipping interests, has finally been put aside in the House, although not without a strong vote in its favor. The merits of this measure have been defended with such signal ability by Messrs. Lynch and Negley that even this defeat has testified to the strength of their case. The proposition now passes to the next session, when its prospects will be more flattering.

A MEETING of the representatives of a very numerous and influential denomination of Christians convened in this city last evening. The Assembly embodies a large degree of intellectual culture and social as well as religious influence. We welcome its members to this city, with the sincere trust that their visit may be as pleasant to themselves personally as its purpose should prove profitable to their organization.

A COMMITTEE of the last Legislature is now in Washington, to urge the necessity as well as the justice of an immediate intervention by Congress, for the relief of our navigation interests from the encroachments of corporations in the erection of bridges across the channel of the Ohio. Senator GRAHAM and ex-Representative WALTON, of this county, are of the Committee, the first-named as its Chairman.

THE JUDD PROPOSITION, the short tariff bill, of which we spoke yesterday, had a strong vote in the House, 102 to 80, but failed of the necessary two-thirds for the suspension of the rules. We are aware that something of this kind would soon be rushed through the House, were it not certain of an ultimate defeat in the Senate. We should like to see the same resolution offered again with the iron-clause stricken out. Let the country see a square vote on the tea, coffee and sugar question!

SENATOR CAMERON will be selected as the representative of the Pennsylvania delegation on the Executive Committee of Republicans, to be formed by Senator Hamlin, in obedience to the instructions of a recent caucus at Washington. A private letter from the Capital, advising us of this fact a day or two since, added: "Look out for a howl from the Commercial!" And howl, the Commercial did, in its yesterday's issue. It was a puny, feeble, starveling howl, but its lack of volume was made up in spite. But that is not to be wondered at when one conḋiders the precise composition of the scribbling crowd of outsiders who have the control of our neighbor's types. They are very hungry, and their music is that of famishing wolves who smell the flesh-pots out of their reach. Throw to them a bone and how quiet they would be!

But, seriously, why should our neighbor be thus grieved? The Senator is the faithful representative of a party which the Commercial hates, and by which it was long since disowned. That journal should stick to its "honesty and reform" humbug, to its canal-enlargement job, to its bootless grabs at the sinking fund, to its contract to help the new State Treasurer to get his money back, and to its general functions as an organ of black-mail—and let individual Republicans and the party alone.

Shoo, fly!

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD bill, with amendments, is expected to pass the House this week. It will be remembered that the bill, or joint resolution, simply proposes to make good to the Company the acreage of its original land-grant, which has been since diminished by preempting settlers, to authorize the corporation to mortgage its estate for raising funds to complete the road, and to change somewhat the point of junction of the Portland and San Juan de Fuca branches. This is all of it. The Company's case is a meritorious one, and should have the public favor. They ask for no subsidy in bonds or cash, although they would gladly exchange their land-grant for the same subsidies per mile that were given to the Union Pacific Road. In mortgaging the property, they would follow the established practice of railway corporations. Since the cost of the work is to be very great, they desire to draw largely upon European capital for its defrayal, and to this end the privilege of creating a mortgage security is most desirable. We are assured that even without it the road will be built, but at an additional expense of perhaps a million of dollars through a less elevated credit. There have been already $6,500,000 raised in one week's time to build the first section of the road, which will be finished to Red River by next January, and every dollar of this sum was obtained from domestic parties who have thus proven their faith in the high value of the project and the certainty of its accomplishment.

WE are happy to see that the new editor of the Detroit Free Press, a colored Democrat named Fox, is welcomed with a fraternal hand by our neighbor of the Post, who says: "The Democracy will accept all such intelligent alliances as Mr. Fox." We like the sense of that remark, although we can't admire its grammar! But a partial improvement is better than none. We quote the greater part of the Post's paragraph, for the especial benefit of our Democratic readers who used to hug the cheerful idea that theirs was an exclusively "white man's party." Friends! listen to such talk as this from that reliable old organ of "white folks," the Pittsburgh Post:

> If Mr. Fox had reversed the order of things, and invested his money and talents in a Radical journal, it would have been all right; but for one of the newly enfranchised race to cut loose from Radical leading strings and dare to think and act for himself, is an unpardonable offence. Does the Gazette mean to say that there are no intelligent black men, or simply that there are no intelligent representatives of that race who are found allying themselves with the Democratic party? Either horn of the dilemma is an unfortunate one for the Gazette—at least so far as veracity is concerned; and if it will but consult its history, it will find that it is the intelligent negroes, and the intelligent only who are deserting the rotten Radical platform, cutting loose from the insincere and treacherous men who desire to use them for personal and political aggrandizement, and who are seeking a home and shelter within the pales of the Democratic party. We know it must go hard with Radical leaders, to lose any of the negro strength, upon which they have so implicitly relied, and to which they pin their faith; they imagine that they have a life lease upon him body and soul, and to have him hazard an independent thought or action, is, to their narrow minds, unheard-of gratitude—an unpardonable offence. The Democracy will accept all such intelligent alliances as Mr. Fox—the ignorant blacks the Radicals are welcome to, for within the ranks of that party they find their natural home.

D. J. MORRELL.

Upon the renomination of this gentleman, by his fellow citizens of Cambria, for their Representative in Congress, the Pittsburgh Commercial improved the occasion to parade the ill-will of a handful of malcontents about Ebensburg as an unfriendly demonstration of great popular weight against the candidate. Probably, our neighbor had no special enmity against the candidate, but it must always yield to its own irresistible itching to scandalize anything Republican at every opportunity. Judging from the following article in the Ebensburg Alleghanian, its raid upon Mr. Morrell has about as little influence as one would have expected. Says the Cambria paper:

> Mr. Morrell is emphatically a man of the people, and of all the citizens of our noble Commonwealth, he less perhaps than any other is the representative of a mere particular section. Starting in life with little else than his rectitude, his sagacity and a good stock of perseverance, he has been instrumental in building the largest industrial works in the entire nation. Coming to Cambria county when comparatively a young man to take upon him the business superintendence of a failing iron mill, by his tact, skill and industry, he made what had been a financial failure a great financial success. It is owing to him that Cambria to-day holds within her borders 45,000 people rather than 20,000. It is to him that Johnstown and the surrounding villages owe their prosperity. The bleak hills of Southern Cambria yield their hidden wealth of coal and iron, and support thousands of hardy and industrious freemen. Daniel J. Morrell's industry and ability opened the way for those sons of toil. Hundreds of farms and thousands of acres of land in Cambria, Blair and Somerset have greatly increased or even doubled their values through no other cause than the fact that Mr. Morrell succeeded in firmly establishing the great industrial works known as the Cambria Iron Company.
>
> His connection with the iron interests of the State also intimately connects him with almost every branch of industry within our borders. All the signs indicate that we are about to enter upon a gigantic contest between free-trade and protection. We are hopeful as to the final result of that contest. Yet in it, Pennsylvania must take the lead on the side of protection. And Pennsylvania could as ill spare any other of her many brave and able defenders of protection as Daniel J. Morrell; so that it is not only the interest of the district, but of the whole State, that Mr. Morrell be returned for the third time to his post of honor. Certainly our district could not well secure a Representative more able, courteous, and attentive in all public matters, and in private life one of plainer habits and purer motives and conduct.

THE PROTHONOTARIES.

In urging the immediate appointment, by the Republican majority of the Supreme Bench, of Republican prothonotaries in place of the three partizans whom they are still suffering to remain in those important offices, we have expressed the clear wish of that majority of the people whose votes alone placed Messrs. READ, AGNEW and WILLIAMS in their own high positions.

In reiterating that urgent request, we again express the opinions of a people which is becoming impatient of a needless and irritating delay. What is asked from these three Justices is not within their judicial functions, but is strictly an executive act. The people have a right to control the personnel of the judiciary department, from Chief Justice down to the tipstaves, and have exercised that right as far as their political votes could go. We have given political heads to the administration, and expect the lower details to be arranged accordingly. The considerations which properly otherwise govern the strictly judicial duties of the bench have no bearing whatever upon this non-judicial question of merely executive duty.

We add that, while the people entertain a profound respect for the judicial qualifications of a majority of the bench, not one of the three could have been elevated to that place by their votes, had there been any reasonable ground to believe that he would have favored the retention in office of the obnoxious partizans who now fill the prothonotaryships by the sufferance of the Court.

The Philadelphia Press says:

> The Republican party all over the State, we think in candor, have a right to complain of the action of the majority of justices now on the Supreme Court bench on the subject of the prothonotaries of that Court. James Ross Snowden, prothonotary of the Eastern district, is now in office over his time, his term having expired on the 2d of March last. No man is insane enough to suppose that a Democratic majority of justices would have allowed a Republican prothonotary to remain in office after his term had expired. Mr. Wallace De Witt, prothonotary of the Middle, and Mr. Thomas J. Keenan, prothonotary of the Western district, are also over their time, their terms having expired on the 17th of March. These gentlemen are all bitter partisans. They all voted against the men who now compose the Republican majority on the Supreme bench. The Republican party owes these prothonotaries no patronage, and we believe we urge no undue claim, and ask for no undignified action, when we appeal to the common-sense view of this subject, and ask that the expired terms of these bitter Copperheads be filled by the appointment of Republicans equally capable and far more deserving than they to occupy these positions. Let us be just to ourselves as a party and as men. The organization of the Republican party cannot easily be held together if we give our bitter opponents the fairest fruits of our hardest won victories. There are young Republicans who have earned these places—men of ability and experience, capable in all respects to discharge all the duties connected with the positions. To such as these the Republican justices on the Supreme Court bench should look for prothonotaries, as the party now unquestionably looks for such action at their hands.

PITTSBURGH, May 24th, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Will you be kind enough to inform us through the columns of your paper whether the Soldiers' Orphans will be brought from Phillipsburg to join in the ceremonies of Decoration Day, and if so, where and how are they to be cared for, as we wish to aid in the good work if we are informed of the way in which we can be useful? We shall look for an answer with interest.

MANY READERS OF THE GAZETTE.

[Respectfully referred to the Committee on Arrangements—Ed.]

A PROTEST signed by over four thousand citizens of San Domingo has been received at Washington, against the ratification of the treaty for the purchase of that island. It was laid before the Senate and will undoubtedly have some influence in settling the question, as it has been heretofore represented that the citizens of the island were unanimously in favor of selling it to this government.

The National Budget.

WE quote from the Congressional proceedings of Monday last:

Mr. Sherman then addressed the Senate upon the necessity of greater economy in appropriations in connection with the reduction of taxation, taking as his text the amendments just adopted, which he said necessitated an additional expense of $400,000 per annum, by adding to the permanent clerical force some six or seven hundred lady employes. This was a fair sample of indiscriminate increase of appropriations in the Senate. The uncertainty thereby occasioned as to aggregate amounts was the real cause of difficulty in fixing the rates of taxation. The bill was one of eight annual appropriation bills which included every branch of expenditure of the National Government. In the book of estimates furnished by various Bureaus, these expenditures were set forth as follows:

Legislative Department	$2,823,000
Executive Department	21,321,000
Judicial Department	1,575,000
Military Service	33,000,000
Naval expenses	24,598,000
Indian service	5,048,000
Pensions	30,490,000
Public Works	24,625,000
Postal deficiencies	5,524,000

These, with the items of permanent appropriations, made a total of $155,297,617 of annual expenditure. To these were to be added what are called indefinite appropriations and that great item of interest on the public debt, $129,077,000, making a total upon which the various appropriation bills were based of $298,516,732.16. The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury placed the amount at $291,000,000—a discrepancy of some $7,000,000, which was explained in the difference in the item of public works, the Secretary's estimate being $19,132,000 in excess of the appropriation of last year. The action of Congress in increasing the items of appropriation, far in excess of the estimate of the Departments, was referred to as an additional element of uncertainty in determining our expenses for the coming year, as also the fact of an unexpended balance in the Treasury Department of $110,000,000. This might be drawn upon largely. In addition to the annual appropriations, it might be continued over until the following year. An amendment has been engrafted upon the bill by which these balances, hereafter, would be carried to the surplus fund, the transfer of appropriations having been forbidden by an act of February, 1868. The item of claims was also indefinite. If, as had been proposed, Congress adopted this principle of paying all damages incurred by loyal people in the South during the war, this item would amount to at least fifty millions. The judgments of the Court of Claims, amounting to $1,250,000, and the action of Congress on private claims, would further swell the aggregate. No reliable estimates of the cost for the Indian service could be made. The House of Representatives had held that treaties of the Senate were good for nothing, until that body appropriated the money to make them good. Differences between the two Houses on Indian affairs, had caused our treaties to be entirely disregarded on our part. No man could tell to-day whether this service next year would cost twenty or fifty millions of dollars, as war might spring up at any time. The Bounty bill, recently passed by the House, would absorb about $200,000,000. Some three years ago the House passed a similar bill which the Senate amended in Conference Committee, to grant bounties to the amount of $80,000,000. This proposition was now substantially renewed with a reduction of these $80,000,000. This general resume would show the impossibility of estimating with exactness until after Congress adjourned, what amount of money would be necessary for the next fiscal year. If the Secretary's estimate, amounting to $291,000,000, was adhered to the one per cent. on the national debt, $24,000,000, would make $315,000,000, to which would have to be added the excess of all appropriations above the estimated figures. The total estimated revenues of the Government amounted to $393,000,000, leaving a surplus of seventy-eight millions. The question was what taxes ought to be repealed; which among them bore most heavily upon the industry of our people? Our internal revenue was the product of war, and was directly felt by the people; while our customs duties had been in force since the formation of the Government, were indirect, mainly upon articles of luxury or consumption, and so well distributed that their weight fell fairly and in just proportion to the ability to pay, though we might differ in theories, yet under any administration the chief burden of taxation would rest upon imported goods. These now yielded one hundred and eighty-five millions in gold, and the revenue was not likely to diminish. Was it not better to retain this revenue and for the present confine our reduction of taxes to new and direct burdens of internal taxation? If it was not for the interest on the public debt all internal taxation might be dispensed with, as the revenue from customs was sufficient to pay all ordinary expenses of the Government. The taxes proposed by the Finance Committee to be repealed and those to be retained were then referred to. The taxes on whisky and tobacco were now levied upon a carefully prepared law, and it was not proposed to change them in any way. They would yield—spirits, $50,000,000; tobacco, $30,000,000; fermented liquors, $6,000,000, making $86,000,000 of taxes to be repealed. The most offensive was the tax on sales, which was a tax on enterprise, subject to every objection. It yielded $8,000,000. The next most oppresive tax was the tax on gross receipts, mainly on insurance companies and transportation, yielding $6,300,000. So with the taxes on legacies, successions, watches, carriages, &c. It was proposed to do away with the whole system of special taxes; some of them are proper subjects of taxation, but as a system they were the most oppressive that could be levied. They yielded, including the tax on banks and bankers, about ten millions of dollars. It is also in contemplation to throw off fourteen million dollars from the income tax. Upon the general question of income tax, Mr. Sherman insisted that it was the most equitable tax levied; that it was the only one upon property, and the only one that discriminated between the rich and poor man. He quoted from various writers on political economy to show its justice in theory, and that in execution it was no more objectionable than any other tax.

Mr. Morton said the country demanded a reduction of the duties on articles of necessity extending into consumption by the poor, and Congress must meet that demand before the adjournment.

West Hickory Items

The following is the production of the wells in this vicinity:

Miles Farm is owned by the Warren & Venango oil company of Pittsburgh, and the wells are as follows: Coe, Smutz & Co., 7 wells producing 27 bbls.; new well drilling. Collins Bros., 2, producing 10 bbls.; Irvington oil company, 2, producing 18 bbls.; Armenia, producing 2 bbls.; Wide-awake, producing 4 bbls.; Hoffman, producing 3 bbls.; Blocher, 15 bbls.

Royal E. Scott Farm is owned by Scott, Grandin & Fisher. Dewey & Laney well, producing 10 bbls.; Fisher & Ralston's well, a late strike, is pumping 40 bbls. and increasing. Several others are nearly ready to be tested.

On the R. C. Scott lower farm, Thornberg well, producing 6 bbls. Goodrich well pumping 80 bbls; Harmony well, 70 bbls; Capt. Goodrich, No. 9 (new) pumping 90 bbls.

On the H. W. Scott, Grandin & Neyhart farm, No. 9 pumping 75 bbls.

On the Turtle farm, Venture well, 200 bbls. This farm is now all leased and subleased, and preparations are being made for a large number of new rigs—some 25 in number.

On the Wilkins farm adjoining, McNair well on lease No. 1, is down 430 feet. Rigs nearly up on No. 5, 6, 3, 7, and 9. The greatest activity is noticeable, and this farm will soon be thoroughly tested. It promises well as it unquestionably lies on the belt and is a sure thing.

On the Isaac Jones farm adjoining the Wilkins, on the east Mr. Binney has leased and is getting his rig up.

On the Allen farm, further down the creek, there is considerable excitement, and if leases could be had, it would be speedily tested.

The Grove farm company have leased 40 acres to Irvin, W. E. McClintock and Faucet, and four rigs are already going up. This is an immense tract containing 960 acres, and looks good.

Leases have been let on the Faulkner farm on the east, and 3 wells are immediately to be started.—Tidioute Journal.

THE House Committee on Banking and Currency have authorized General Garfield, by a special vote, to ask the consent of the House to report his Currency bill, with an additional section inflicting much heavier penalties on the banks for certifying checks without holding in hand the money of the signer to the full amount.

Democratic Sneers at the "Dutch."

WE quote from the Congressional proceddings of Monday last:

Mr. Bergener (Rep., Texas), as a citizen of German birth, criticised the remark of Mr. Voorhees last Thursday, that the cry in Indiana was, "Let the Irish go, let the Dutch go, we have got the negroes in their places." He wanted to let the people know that Congress at least did not join in that kind of popular slang. He inferred from the remarks of Mr. Voorhees that there was still a class of people who treated the foreigners and colored men as voting cattle, and on a careful perusal of that gentleman's remarks, no other inference could be drawn from it than that he (Voorhees) was of that opinion. Those who heard the peculiar tone given to the word "Dutch," had come to the conclusion that they were treated in that way. He himself did not care whether he was called a "Hollander," or a "German." He knew that the word "Dutch" was but a geographical error, and was continued by the similarity of the sound to that of "Deutsch," but the peculiar way in which it is used by the people at large, contained something contemptable, and which ought to be banished from the House. He considered the House as the drawing-room of the nation where decent language ought to be used. The Germans were an intelligent and logical people, and would stand faithfully by the Republican party as long as that party remained true to itself. As to the colored people, they were keen in their instincts, they knew who made them free, and they would stand by them. If there were negroes who voted the other way it was not the African who voted so, but it was the "slave" that was still "cropping out." [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. Finkelburg (Rep., Mo.), on the same subject, remarked that where certain reflections were made on his nationality the other day, he did not deem them worthy of response, but as attention had been called to them by the gentleman from Texas it was perhaps proper that he should add a word to what had been said. If there was still any one on the floor who believed that the German votes of the country could be transferred from one party to another by mere political maneuvering, or that the German citizens could be used like a shuttle-cock by sharp political gamesters, they not only underrated the intelligence and moral character of his countrymen, but showed a deplorable ignorance on their own part.

Mr. Cox (Dem., N. Y.), suggested that the gentleman from Ohio (Mungen) be allowed to address the Committee in German.

Watkins Glen.

A party of excursionists—railroad men and editors—have lately visited the glen at Watkins, N. Y. Among them was "Porte Crayon," of Harper's Magazine, and Volck, the sculptor. One of the party thus describes the scenery:

"The glen is a gorge, cut through the solid rock by the water, which finds an outlet into the lake, after many tortuous windings and eddyings, forming cascades and rapids at every few steps. It was first brought into notice in 1863, when staircases were built, so as to render the first section passable. Bridges have been thrown across the various chasms, stairs constructed and footways cut in the rocks, which form a complete wall on either side; so that now the glen is open to visitors for some miles or more. This strange freak of nature is well worthy of a visit during the summer months.

"At the present season, when the rains have swollen the streams, the scene of this wild place is rendered more striking. The roar of the water as it dashes from rock to rock, now forming pools and eddys, now falling with a sullen boom into the basins of solid rock which have been worn smooth and circular by huge boulders washed down in the fall, and whirled round and round by the waters. Towering above, high walls shut out the sunlight, while lichens and mosses cling to the strata, and pines and hemlocks find a doubtful foothold at dizzy heights or shoot out from rifts along the sides, at times falling across the narrow gorge, forming a bridge, or leaning away out over the waters, uncertain whether to plunge below or cling to their scant foothold. The dripping of water is heard on all sides. A constant current of damp air sweeps through the narrow place, and a solemn silence, save the roar of waters, always prevails. No animal life is seen, the song of cheerful birds finds no echo in this dismal place, the nimble squirrel avoids it, a solitary toad may sometimes be seen peering out from its damp abode among the dripping rocks, but all other signs of life are absent. The stream of water which flows through this narrow gorge winds around the rocks so that further progress seems at times completely barred. A few steps, however, reveal a rift through which the tourist emerges into still stranger formations of rock and water. Just above Glen Alpha, or the first glen, and away up on the right of the rugged sides, surrounded by foliage, is now being constructed a commodious hotel."

THE Deer Lodge City (Montana) New Northwest says: "Mr. A. Elliot recently purchased the Hall farm, on Cottonwood Creek, a half mile from town. It has on it a double log house, one story, having a roof area of 17x40 feet. On it there is a dirt roof. Mr. Elliot was engaged in re-roofing it with boards, and had it about completed on Saturday when the storm began. His son, a lad of a dozen years, was on one corner and he on the comb. As the whirlwind dipped he called to his son to jump down, and Mr. Elliot clasped the comb projection of the boards to prevent being blown to the ground. Just at the instant the entire roof, rafters and all, was lifted from the building, and rising with the whirlwind, sailed away, attaining an altitude of about forty feet at the greatest, and landing 189 feet from the house, where Mr. Elliot was dumped by the concussion. The roof performed a somersault over him, and was scattered in a thousand fragments up the valley. Strange as it may appear, Mr. Elliot is only slightly bruised. The lad was uninjured, the board roof gliding out from under him, leaving him sitting disconsolate on the dirt roof, while his father was abandoning him at the rate of sixty miles an hour. When it is considered that the roof contained 1,200 feet of lumber, was nailed to heavy log rafters, and that the whole affair was carried 189 feet intact, some idea of the force of the whirlwind may be obtained."

THE Kokomo (Indiana) Tribune of the 19th says: "A Mr. Disinger had been paying attention to a Miss Osborn. She got acquainted with a Mr. Danford and liked him. The latter and the young lady were engaged, and the fact became known. Disinger then wrote the young lady a very mean letter, charging her with disgraceful conduct. The letter was shown to Danford, and he felt much incensed over it. The parties all lived several miles northwest of this city, and very near the Cass county line. On last Sunday evening the young men met and high words ensued. Finally Disinger drew a revolver which Danford took away from him. Afterward he took a club from him, but such were the pugnacious demonstrations of Disinger that Danford struck him. He has a crippled hand that furnishes a very hard and pointed fist. So strong was the stroke that Disinger's skull was broken in, and he died almost immediately. The case will come before the grand jury next week."

THE Oil Creek Extension of the Lake Shore road was completed to Oil City and connected with the Oil Creek road on Saturday last. In making this connection it became necessary for the track to cross the tracks of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway. Great difficulty was experienced by the Lake Shore people in making the crossing, owing to an Erie railway train constantly moving over the point of crossing for two or three days; but the Erie men, becoming tired of the contest, withdrew for a time, when the track was put down in proper shape, so that all roads were in as good condition as before.

Monday morning, before daybreak, a large mob were brought down to the "field of action" on one of the Erie trains and were at once put to the task of destroying the track and property of the Lake Shore Company.

MAN INJURED BY LIGHTNING.—The Wheeling Intelligencer says: During the storm on Monday afternoon a man, whose name our informant did not ascertain, was prostrated by lightning at one of the stations on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, above this city. The gentleman was sitting on the platform when the electric fluid struck a telegraph pole near him, and after running down about half its length, left it and ran down his person. He was quite seriously if not fatally injured. It was not known at the time our informant left whether he would survive or not. The indications of his recovery were not flattering. Three or four others who were in the immediate vicinity were also prostrated, but soon recovered from the effects of the shock.

A SWEET AMERICAN POEM.

TO FLORENCE HUNTINGTON, PASSAMAQUODDY, MAINE.

Sweet maiden of Passamaquoddy,
Shall we seek for communion of souls
Where the deep Mississippi meanders,
Or the distant Saskatchewan rolls?

Ah, no—for in Maine I will find thee
A sweetly sequestered nook,
Where the far winding Skoodoowabskooksis
Conjoins with the Skoodoowabskook.

There wander two beautiful rivers
With many a winding and crook;
The one is the Skoodoowabskooksis,
The other the Skoodoowabskook.

Ah, sweetest of haunts! though unmentioned
In geography, atlas, or book;
How fair is the Skoodoowabskooksis
When rejoining the Skoodoowabskook.

Our cot shall be close to the waters
Within that sequestred nook—
Reflected in Skoodoowabskooksis
And mirrored in Skoodoowabskook!

You shall sleep to the music of leaflets
By zephyrs in wantonness shook,
And dream of the Skoodoowabskooksis,
And, perhaps, of the Skoodoowabskook.

When awakened by the hens and the roosters,
Each morn, you shall joyously look
On the junction of Skoodoowabskooksis
With soft gliding Skoodoowabskook!

Your food shall be fish from the river,
Caught upon the point of a hook,
From murmuring Skoodoowabskooksis
Or wandering Skoodoowabskook!

You shall quaff the most sparkling of water,
Drawn forth from a silvery brook
Which flows to the Skoowabskooksis
And then to the Skoodoowabskook!

And you shall preside at the banquet,
And I will wait on you as cook;
And we'll talk of the Skoodoowabskooksis
And tell of the Skoodoowabskook!

Let others sing loudly of Saco,
Of Quoddy and Tattamagouche;
Of Kennebecasis and Quaco,
Of Merigonishe and Buctouche;

Of Nashwaak and Eagagnadvique,
Of Memmerimammericook—
There's none like the Skoodoowacskooksis,
Excepting the Skoodoowabskook!

THE Senate Military Committee decide to report against the House proposition to make the 30th of May a national holiday. The committee think it is not only unecessary, but that it will interfere with the business interests of the country, and that it is better to leave the matter to the natural impulses of the people to commemorate, as they deem most gtting, each recurring year.

THE POPULAR TONIC OF THE AGE.

The day has gone by when a medicine without merit could command and retain the confidence of the world. Advertising induces the public to try many things, but in this shrewd and thoughtful age, words will not suffice without proofs, and it is by the exercise of their private judgment, men determine the relative value of the various articles recommended to their notice through the business columns of newspapers. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has now been subjected to this searching ordeal for more than eighteen years, and the result is that it stands at the head of the class of remedies to which it belongs. It has distanced and lived down innumerable competitors, and is to-day the Standard Vegetable Tonic of the western world. The happy effects which have followed its use in cases of dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, intermittent fevers and general debility, and as a constitutional invigorant, have entitled it to universal confidence. Nothing can ever shake its reputation, for it is based on the individual experiences of tens of thousands of witnesses, embracing prominent and well-known citizens of every profession, occupation and class. There is not a city, town or settlement in the United States where it is not a medicinal staple. No druggist or general dealer would consider his stock complete without it, and the returns of the internal revenue department show that its sales exceed those of any other proprietory restorative manufactured on this side of the Atlantic. The beneficial results derived during a long series of years from the use of Hostetter's Bitters, have convinced the whole community that the only true way to restore to health a broken down or debilitated system, or to put the human body on its defense when exposed to unwholesome influences, is to invigorate, regulate and purify it at one and the same time.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOAN
of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad
Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.
In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.
When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.
It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.
It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.
The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)
The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of Investors and Capitalists.
Who desire to make their investments with the most satisfactory assurance of POSITIVE AND UNDOUBTED SECURITY.
The Bonds are in denominations of Interest Six per cent. per annum, payable MAY 1st and NOVEMBER 1st.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST., (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

The highest prices at the stock exchange, the gold room and the bond market made at the close of last evening's business were maintained, and a further rise at least for a point or two is almost certain to follow before there can be any reaction. Gold was strong at 114¼ to 114⅜.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, May 25, 1870.

The oil market continues distressingly dull and what is worse still there is not much prospect at present of any immediate improvement. There has been "hitch" in the business now for several days, what it is or what produced it, it is difficult to point out but that there is something in the way is evident from the very light sales. The main cause of the unsatisfactory and stagnated condition of the market lies in the unfair and unjust policy by pursued certain railroad companies, and for this there seems to be no help at present, no way of obtaining relief. We do not say that this is the direct cause of the present stagnation, although there is no doubt but what indirectly it has something to do with it—there is no doubt but what the high rates of freight on oil has done more to injure the trade here, than all other causes combined.

CRUDE.

Continues dull but unchanged. Sale of 1,000 bbls immediate delivery, (40 to 45) at $4.55 at Oil City. Quotations may be fairly given at 12 to 12⅛, spot or seller this month; 12, seller June; 12⅛, seller July; 12¾ August to December; 11⅞ to 12, seller all year, and 13⅜ to 14 buyer all year.

REFINED.

Market quiet and without material change. May and June, quoted at 27; July, 27¼; August to December, 28; buyer all year, 29 bid. There was a sale at 26¾, for June, but subsequently it sold up to 27.

HIDE AND LEATHER MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, May 25, 1870.

We have to report a continued dullness in the hide and leather trade, and there is not much prospect of any immediate improvement. Stocks are not large, and the demand is light being restricted almost wholly to supplying the immediate wants of consumers. Prices have receded steadily since the first of the year, until they are now down on to a gold basis, and it is possible the next change will be in favor of better prices, and larger sales. Following are the ruling quotations, as furnished by Mr. G. H. Anderson:

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, May 25, 1870.

The markets, in a general way, are devoid of anything new or important, nothing at least deserving of special notice. There is no improvement to note in the demand for any of the leading commodities, and no important changes to make in quotations, and while business, generally, is dull it is nevertheless full as good as it usually is at this particular time. Our country trade is always light at this season of the year, as country people are always busily engaged on their farms about this time, and in the absence of country buyers, trade is always very slow.

APPLES—Season about over. We continue to quote at $5@6 per bbl.

BUTTER—The demand continues to improve and with diminished arrivals prices are tending upward. We now quote at 18 to 23, for good to choice.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BEANS—Dull but nominally unchanged, $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

CARBON OIL—Quiet and unchanged; 23½ to 24 for standard brands in a jobbing way.

CHEESE—Ohio Goshen is quoted at 15@16 and New York Goshen at 17@17½.

CORNMEAL—Quiet and unchanged, 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3½ per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—The market quiet and unchanged. Apples 6@7 cts; Peaches, 6@7 for quarters, and 8@9 for halves. Blackberries, 12@14 and pitted Cherries, 20@23.

EGGS—With an improved demand and continued light arrivals, prices are strong and tending upward. We now quote at 18@19.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and unchanged, and the feeling is not as strong as it was a week or two ago—the excitement which then prevailed has almost died out, and those who have been operating with a view to big prices are likely to be disappointed. We continue to quote at $5,25@5,50 for spring wheat; and $5,50@6 for winter wheat, and $7@7½ for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $5.

GROCERIES—Sugars are more active and higher—¼ on refined and ⅛ on raw. Coffee continues dull and drooping. Syrups are steady but without quotable change. New Orleans molasses firm, much firmer than syrups. Teas, Fish, etc, etc, devoid of anything new. Following are the ruling quotations:

SUGARS—Cuba, 10⅜@11; Porto Rico at 10⅜@11⅛; New Orleans, 10⅜@12c; Havana in boxes, 11@12. Molasses Sugars, 8⅞@11⅛. A Coffee, 13c; "B" do 12⅝c; Extra C 12⅜c; C, 12⅛c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered 13⅜c.

COFFEE—Ordinary Rio, 18⅛c; fair to good, 19@20c; prime, 21⅜c; choice, 22c; strictly choice, 22⅜c.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 80@85c; Porto Rico, 65@75c.

SYRUPS—Havemeyer and Elder, or "H and E" Syrup, 85c; White Honey Drips, 88c; Silver Drips, 65c; Lovering, 65c; Golden, 60c; Amber and lower grades from 35@55c.

TEAS—Young Hyson, 90@$1,50; Gunpowder, $1,00@1,60; Imperial, 85@$1,50; Japan, 95@$1,25; Oolong, 75@$1,35; Souchong, 90@$1,20; Hyson, $1,00@1,25.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 34c; Pimento, 28c; Cassia, 60@65c; Cloves, 40c; Nutmegs, $1,30@$1,40.

FRUITS—Prunes, 12½c; Currants, 13⅛c; Layer Raisins, $4½ per box; Valencia Raisins, 16@17c per lb.

PITTSBURGH LUMBER MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, May 25, 1870.

The market since the date of our last report has been, if anything, a little more active, and probably, the sales were somewhat larger in the aggregate, while in regard to prices, there has been no essential change. The stock of timber and boards, afloat, is steadily being reduced, and it is thought that the great proportion of what remains in river will be taken down the river to Cincinnati and other down river markets. Mountain and Cleveland lumber remains unchanged, as it is still being sold in car load lots on track at last weeks quotations. Following are the yard prices.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point with 8 feet 6 inches in the channel last evening. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and it is hoped that the rain storm is over.

The Petrolia, from Wheeling, arrived and departed.

The Arlington departed for Cincinnati with a fair trip, including quite a number of passengers.

The Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh, with Mr. T. J. Darragh in the office, will positively depart for New Orleans this afternoon.

The Juniata, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to day, leaving at 12 o'clock. She is noted for her regularity, and Capt. Brennan is known as one of our most energetic and accomplished steamboatmen.

The Belle, Capt. J. P. Smith, departs for Brownsville and Geneva this evening at 5 o'clock. Her agent, Mr. Patterson, can always be found at the wharf boat immediately above the Monongahela bridge.

The new steamer R. J. Lockwood received a very large amount of freight yesterday, and she will be ready to depart for St. Louis, as advertised, on Saturday.

The Camelia, from Nashville, and the Wauanita, from New Orleans, arrived yesterday afternoon.

The Kate Putnam arrived at Nashville on Monday.

As will be seen by card, the Wauanita, Capt. Conway, is announced for St. Louis.

—It is the settled opinion of old steamboatmen that the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers will be more difficult of navigation this summer and fall than they have been for many years. The many rapid rises and declines of both rivers during the past winter and spring have doubtless filled up many of the well-defined channels of years previous. Bars with double channels, neither of which will have sufficient water to admit the passage of any but the lightest draught boats, will present a formidable barrier to progressive navigation.

—The Parkersburg, Wheeling and Cincinnati Transportation Company, on Tuesday of last week, closed a contract with William Knox & Son, of Marietta, for the hull of a new side-wheel steamer, for the machinery of the Rebecca, to be completed in ninety days. The dimentions will be: length, 190 feet; beam, 32 feet; depth of hold, 6 feet.

—At Shreveport, ten days ago, Red River was twenty feet above low water mark and rising. There was plenty of water through the lakes to Jefferson for the largest class boats. Above the raft the river wast falling and nerly all the cotton had been taken ont. Several thousand bales says an exchange have been sent out during the last few weeks.

—Gen. Jeff. Thompson has been examining Tech river from St. Martinsville to the Junction, by order of the State Legislature, to report on its navigable condition. The State Government has also contracted to have the most dangerous snags taken out, and the steamer T. B. Hine has been engaged for that purpose.

—Captain Fry a well-known navel officer, who commanded the gunboats Ivy, Maurepas, and other vessels in the Confederate navy on the Mississippi River during the war, is now running the steamer Wiggins in the brick carrying trade between Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

—The steamer La Belle made the round trip from New Orleans to Shreveport and return, including all stoppings and landings, in four days and fifteen minutes, which is said to be the fastest time on record in that trade.

—The Thos. F. Eckert. is now on her way up the river from New Orleans. She will take off the machinery of the sunken Kenton on her way up, and will then procede to the wreck of the Robt. Moore.

—Mr. W. F. Bedard of the steamer Flirt has left New Orleans for Louisville and Cincinnati, with the intention of contracting for a new Red River packet.

—The losses of property caused by steamboats colliding with the piers of the Rock Island bridge since it was built amount to over $100,000.

—Captain William Gillen has purchased of Captain Isaac Kouns, the Twelfth Era, at New Orleans, for $14,000.

—A young daughter of Captain T. P. Leathers, of the Natchez, died at New Orleans a few days since.

—Navigation in the Upper Tennessee is suspended on account of the low water.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

Dr. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, for Diseases of the Liver or to act as a Gentle Purgative.

All of these three Medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrade Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These Medicines are conscientiously offered to the Public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedy for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been proved by the thousand cures it has made through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of this Medicine has saved the life of the patient and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physician, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very sadly diseased and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicine.

Also, in Scrofulous Diseases, these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be able to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of Consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most highly nutritous articles are to be preferred, but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Seaweed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designated.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system of the patient is invigorated and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of Pulmonic Syrup will effect the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the Liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These Pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the Liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs are almost entirely destroyed and all symptoms according to the judgment of the physician indicated a speedy death. The lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

Dr. Schenck's Almanac contains a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine can be had gratis, or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. de27:d&T

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

For Sale.—A good paying route on this paper. Apply at GAZETTE counting room.

The German Turners will turn out in white uniform on Decoration Day.

Recovering.—Fred. Kaufield, the man who attempted to commit suicide a few days since, is slowly recovering.

To Let.—That very desirable basement, corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, opposite the GAZETTE building. Inquire on the premises.

A large body of Fenians were observed drilling by a reporter of a contemporary, but he didn't say that they were at work in a stone quarry.

We hope Mayor Brush will instruct his officers to relieve us from the nightly nuisance of street talkers and cure-alls. They are worse than a mocking bird on a spring morning.

Alderman Humbert yesterday entertained a complaint for assault and battery preferred by John Altman against James McLaughlin. Both parties are of the First ward. Warrant issued.

A McFarland Case.—Benjamin McFarland was before Alderman Humbert yesterday charged with keeping a disorderly house on Market street, in the First ward. He was held for a hearing.

One Hundred and Seventeen men from the police force of this city, in full uniform, will participate in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the soldiers' monument. They will accompany Gen. Sweitzer's division.

Yesterday Alderman Neeper issued a warrant for the arrest of James Dickson for knocking Kitty Burns down, because she refused to take a glass of mineral water with him. Tin Pot alley was the scene of the affray.

Rev. James R. Mills, of the North Avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny, has been appointed to deliver the annual address before the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at the commencement exercises of Allegheny college, Meadville, next March.

We understand all the Banks will be closed, as recommended by the Clearing House Association next Monday, Decoration Day. Parties having notes coming due on that day, will bear in mind that the same must be paid on Saturday.

Assault and Battery.—Bridget Larkin made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Mary Cain with assault and battery. She alleges that the accused struck her in the eye with her fist and knocked her down. A warrant was issued.

James Kearney, of the Twelfth ward, for threatening to create a conflagration in Mulberry alley by burning John McAlee's house down, was arrested yesterday and committed to jail by Alderman Herron for trial, on an information for surety of the peace.

A meeting of Pittsburgh Councils has been called for next Monday morning at nine o'clock. The branches will be called to order and after formal organization will adjourn that the members in a body may participate in the ceremonies of Decoration Day.

Optical Goods.—W. G. Dunseath, No. 56 Fifth avenue, makes a speciality of optical goods, and those of our readers needing Russian pebble spectacles and eye glasses, spy glasses, field glasses and opera glasses will find an excellent assortment in his store.

Proved Fatal.—The little daughter of Gotleib Fox, who fell out of a second story window of her father's residence Friday morning, an account of which was published in the GAZETTE of Saturday, lingered until yesterday, when death releived her of her sufferings.

The Second Sale at the Allegheny Poor Farm took place yesterday, by order of Councils. Thirty lots were sold; average size 24 by 120; total sales $13,430; average price per lot $448. Corner lots brought from $500 to $550. Good sale. Exceeded expectations.

Alleged Rape.—Adam Friend and John Shobe were arrested yesterday, and taken before Justice Krehan, on a charge of rape, preferred by Mrs. Mary Schott, who alleges that the accused outraged her daughter, Margaret Bonenstell, aged fifteen years. They were held to bail for their appearance at Court.

Mirror Broken.—The magnificent mirror recently received by Henry G. Hale, for his establishment, was broken yesterday by some unaccountable means, while it was being placed in position. The glass and frame are decidedly the handsomest in the city, and it is quite unfortunate the accident happened.

It is reported that Dr. Frank's success is very great, and it is a theme of general conversation that his spectacles are giving immense satisfaction, as is also his medical treatment of diseases of the eye and ear. He yet is at the St. Clair Hotel. Call early and do not neglect seeing him. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

We bespeak the attention of Horticulturists, Agriculturists and citizens in general to the advertisements of Mr. W. W. Knox on our first page of to-day's paper. Owing to our crowded columns this morning we cannot numerate the many articles he offers for sale, but bespeak your careful attention to these advertisements.

Seriously Injured.—Mr. Frank Swain, contractor for the brick work of the new German Masonic temple, in Allegheny, met with a serious accident yesterday. He was driving a nail in an oak plank, when the nail broke, and a piece of it struck him in the eye, severely injuring it, and it is thought permanently destroying the sight.

Fred. Barr, a teamster, became disorderly on one of the Saw Mill Run ferry boats yesterday, and when remonstrated with threatened the toll collector with all manner of evil, for which Alderman Humbert has issued a warrant for his arrest on an information for surety of the peace, preferred by David Robinson, the collector.

More Rings.—D. Dunseath, Jr., made an information before the Mayor yesterday charging Horace Byers, a notice of whose arrest we published yesterday, with larceny. It appears that when arrested he had in his possession, a silver box and a gold ring which had been stolen from Mr. Dunseath. The accused is held for a hearing.

Serious Accident.—A little girl, daughter of Thomas Earley, a shoemaker residing at 138 Elm street, was seriously injured yesterday. She was playing in a new building at the corner of Elm street and Fifth avenue, and in walking over the joist of the first floor fell through to the cellar, breaking her arm and receiving other injuries of a serious nature.

People who are opposed to Fenian attacks upon Canada, or rather to their threats, which rarely amount to anything further, might show this feeling now in this time of Fenian excitement by a liberal contribution in aid of the six thousand houseless people of Quebec who were burnt out. Pittsburghers ought to be very liberal with sufferers from conflagrations.

W. G. Dunseath, jeweler, No. 56 Fifth avenue, is agent in this city for the extensive Philadelphia manufacturing house of Horstman & Brothers, and can supply at shortest notice society and military goods, regalias, etc. Mr. Dunseath has already supplied several lodges with regalias and paraphalia, affording the largest measure of satisfaction. He sells at the manufacturer's rates.

Just in Time.—Under the above head on our first page will be found the notice of Mrs. S. C. Bobb, the leader of fashion in the millinery line, of our sister city, Allegheny. It is unnecessary for us to impress our lady readers with the importance of being on hand early and see something handsome, as the mere announcement is all that is wanted. Mrs. B. has just returned from New York, and promises something entirely new in her line of business, and once promised she always fulfils her pledge.

Direct from Pittsburgh to Wheeling.—The Chartiers Valley Railroad is now being built from this place to some point near to Washington, Pa. A new and very easy route is proposed from Canonsburg, Pa., to Wheeling, by West Middletown, Pa., and Bethany, Va. The people all along the line are holding meetings proposing to give "right of way," and money besides. Their claims are: fertile country, plenty of coal, timber, building stone, very many places of business, direct route and a willing people.

Colwell Street was in a state of pugilistic excitement yesterday by reason of the demonstrations of a warlike woman, Mrs. Oneal. That lady had been offended by some action of her neighbor's domestic and invaded the premises of the neighbor, Mrs. Sarah E. Lawrence. Once inside she was not long in avenging the insult. The domestic mourns the loss of a chignon, and has other meloncholy rememberances of the irate female's visit. Alderman Shore also has an information before him against Mrs. Oneal for assault and battery, upon which a warrant has been issued.

Fight in a Mill.

A disagreement occurred yesterday morning in a pipe works in the Fourteenth ward, between Hugh Downing and Pat Welsh. It has been the cause of two suits. In one Hugh avers he fears his life because of dire threats by Patrick. Patrick in the other says James dropped a piece of hot iron on his foot, much to the discomfort of his corns and otherwise mutilated him. Both parties will be heard to-day.

The Monongahela Inclined Plane.

This new and ingenious expedient for climbing the rugged hill which hitherto has obstructed the extension from city suburbs on the South Side, is so nearly completed that it is expected to be opened for public use on Saturday next. The machinery has been frequently operated during the past few days. Numerous passengers have made the round or rather oblique trips and report the passage easy and comfortable and without even an idea of danger. The management delays its inauguration for public use only for the prudent purpose of having everything made perfect, and by frequent experimental tests ascertaining that nothing has been left undone that can be done to make assurance of safety doubly sure.

The Fenians on the War Path.

The Fenians of this city have been unusually active during the week preparing for the invasion of Canada, now in progress. Since the fruitless campaign of several years ago against our cousins across the borders, Fenianism has been on the wane, and we are quite confident that two hundred fighting men could not be gathered together in the city to do service in the cause. Small squads of enthusiastic and over zealous Irishmen have left the city to participate in the spree over in Canada, but they went without organization. This morning Dr. Donnelly, the Surgeon General of the Fenian Army, left for Buffalo, and rumor said that he had with him one hundred and sixty-five men, but rumor much exaggerated. Indeed, we are very sorry that even ten of our Irishmen could be found so foolish as to embark in such a reckless enterprise, which promises no good to Ireland but disgrace to the war-like guerillas who insanely espouse her cause by attacking a peaceful people.

RAILROADS AND REVENUE.

The Pennsylvania Central, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago and Allegheny Valley Railroads Charged with Violating the Provisions of the Revenue Law—Proceedings to be Instituted Against Them in the United States Courts.

The officers of the revenue department in this district have, it appears, discovered that certain corporations have been defrauding the Government, in various ways, of a large amount of revenue, either through a misunderstanding of the revenue law or else wilfully. It has not been stated which, but it has been resolved to correct the matter.

Under section 122 of the Internal Revenue law, railroad companies and all similar corporations having a bonded indebtedness upon which they pay interest, all companies declaring dividends to their stock holders or making profits, shall deduct from said interests, dividends and profits five per cent., and make returns to the Assessor of Internal Revenue, of the proper district under oath, on or before the 10th day of the month following that in which said money became due, said returns to be made semi-annually.

It is alleged that the Pennsylvania Central, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and Allegheny Valley Railroad Companies have failed to comply with this requirement and that proceedings are about to be instituted against them for neglect. The penalty for violating this section is one thousand dollars in each case, but it is small in comparison to the amount of money involved in the matter.

The Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company are said to be at fault in another particular, and are about to be required by law to make amends for past neglect. The law provides that railroad companies shall make returns annually to the Assessor of the net earnings of the road, upon which they are required to pay a revenue tax of two per cent., and in case of neglect on the part of a company to make such return, or if a false return be made, the Assessor is authorized to make an estimated return upon which to base his assessment, and add one hundred per cent. to the tax levied.

The Fort Wayne road, it is alleged, has neglected to make returns in accordance with this provision since 1864, and when notified and required by the Assessor to do so, submitted a return for the last fifteen months, which, it is alleged, is not more than one-half the amount published as net earnings in the last annual report. Under this state of facts, we learn, U. S. District Attorney Swope is about to institute proceedings against the company for making a false return.

The Assessor will make his assessment, taking the amount published as net earnings in the last yearly stasement as a basis, and add one hundred per cent. to the amount levied as a penalty.

Proceedings will also be instituted against the company for failing to make returns as required by law prior to this time.

It would be impossible to arrive at the exact amount of money that will be involved in these proceedings without having the figures, but it will be thousands of dollars.

BLENDING OF THE COLORS

The Old Times and the New—Paddy and the Fifteenth Amendment—Freaks of the "Arrowy God."

The Fifteenth Amendment has worked many changes, and the new times are not as the old. But, amid them all, who would have thought that Paddy's peculiar feelings toward the "naygur" would have resolved themselves into fervent love. Yet extremes often meet: and the hymeneal scene which occurred in Chartiers township, Monday evening, proved an illustration of the old adage. It need not be recounted how they met and loved, e'en though her face dark as evening when the sun's gone down, and his light as that of any son of the Emerald Isle. It sufficeth that Cupid won another victory, and the two hearts beat in unison. The happy hour came on apace, and he, leaving his forge in Wood's Mill, Temperanceville; she, laying aside for the while the cares of domestic life; and both, with the "wedding garments" on, appeared in the official presence of Justice Johnston, and amid an array of friends filling the magisterial sanctum, these two passed through that mysterious ceremony which of twain made them one. He was a stout yeoman of about thirty years' experience in life, and voted the "Dimmicratic" ticket always. Twenty-one summers in beauty had bloomed about her pathway. Practical people were they, and no wedding tour with its innumerable vexations disturbed their sweet honeymoon. The quiet, placid contentment of a boarding house, presided over by a sable sister of the bride, had more charms for them, and there, amid the congratulations of friends and undisturbed by the blind malice of enemies, their abode was taken. So, under the guidance of Hymen, the pair have commenced anew the journey of the years.

COAL THIEVES.

Impositions on a Coal Merchant—Three Thousand Bushels Stolen in One Month—How it Was Done.

For some months past Messrs. Dickson & Co., coal dealers, have been furnishing coal to Shoenberger's iron mills, in the Tenth ward. Their works are on the railroad, and the coal is run in on cars, and switched off on a private siding constructed for the purpose. The coal was, as is their custom, weighed before leaving the works, and recently it was discovered that the weight did not hold out. Inquiry was made; the scales examined, but the leak was not found. Mr. Dickson knowing that the scales weighed correctly, and that the cars left the works with the proper quantity was convinced that the difficulty must be at the siding. An investigation proved this to be correct. It appears that the children of hundreds of families residing in the neighborhood make a practice of visiting the coal trains nightly, if not by order of their parents at least with their consent, and in this way carry off large quantities every night. We were informed that over three thousand bushels of coal have been stolen from Messrs Dickson & Co. in this manner during the past month.

Mr. Dickson would not refuse coal to any one who needed it and was too poor to buy it, but he decidedly objects to supplying entire communities gratis, unless they call upon him and ask for it.

The parties engaged in this theiving operation, if they consult their own interests, will stop it immediately, as Mr. Dickson is not disposed to permit it to continue any longer.

HAMPTON MONUMENT

Where it Will be Located—The Design—Contract Awarded.

We stated some time since that initiatory steps had been taken for the erection of a monument, at some point in the Allegheny Commons, to the memory of the members of Hampton's Battery, who lost their lives in the defense of their country, since which time we have heard but little, if anything, said about the matter, and many thought that the project had been abandoned. But such, we are pleased to announce, is not the case. The Committee to whom the matter of raising funds was entrusted, have been successful beyond the most sanguine expectations of the friends of the movement, and the Building Committee, although working quietly, have been none the less active in their labors.

THE LOCATION.

It has been decided to erect the monument in the east corner, about midway between Ohio street and Church avenue, and the grounds have been laid out with this idea in view. The site is a beautiful one, and we do not think a better selection could have been made.

THE DESIGN.

The design of the monument selected by the committee is simple, neat and appropriate. It will be constructed of marble, with a base of brown sandstone. The pedestal will be a solid block of marble, four feet square at the base, two feet square at the top, and six feet high, upon which will stand a life-size statue of an artillery soldier.

The contract has been awarded at $2,500, and the work will be commenced immediately.

RAILROAD CASUALTY.

Probable Fatal Accident—A Young Man is Terribly Mangled.

Last evening, about six o'clock, a serious and probably fatal accident occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad near the Union depot. Henry Lang, a young German laborer, was returning from work in the Twelfth Ward, and passed from Seventeeth street into one of the coal yards, under the railroad track. He then elevated himself through the opening between the trestles, for the purpose of getting to the boardwalk alongside the rails. Just as he raised up a shifting engine came along on the track. He attempted to jump to one side, and would have succeeded, but that his foot slipped. He was caught by the cowcatcher and dragged along several yards, when he fell, and the two wheels of the engine passed over his left leg, crushing it to a jelly and scattering the pieces of bone in all directions. He was picked up and taken to the Union Depot, where Dr. Hamilton rendered all possible medical assistance. Soon after he was removed to his boarding house on Forbes street, where the leg was amputated below the knee by Dr. Hamilton. He was much reduced at last accounts, and was not expected to survive until this morning. The victim is about nineteen years of age, unmarried and has no relatives in this vicinity.

Wouldn't Prosecute.

During the Fenian excitement at the McClelland House yesterday morning, a row ensued, in the midst of which the bar-keeper threw a beer glass, which struck Lawrence Donavan on the head, laying the scalp open to the skull for a distance of about three inches. The wound was an ugly one and the blood flowed from it freely. The barkeeper was arrested and taken to the tombs, where he was retained until the wounded man Donavan, who had gone to a doctor to have the wound dressed should appear and make information against him. After some time Donavan appeared with his head shaved and almost completely covered with sticking plasters, and when asked by the Mayor if he wished to prosecute the bar-keeper, replied:

"No, yer honor, divil a bit will I prosecute him. If he'll pay the doctor bill its all I'll ask av him. Poor fellow, I don't belave he done it a purpose any way."

The doctor's bill was paid and so ended the case.

Extensive Robbery.

Some time Tuesday night or yesterday morning there was an extensive robbery committed on Main street, Allegheny. We are unable to obtain the name of the man who occupies the house in which the robbery was perpetrated, but the facts are as follows:

There is a new building in course of erection adjoining the house, and the thieves gained admission through a second story window by ascending through the new building to the roof of the back part of the house. A bureau drawer was broken open, and over three hundred dollars stolen.

We learn that several other robberies of this character have been perpetrated in Allegheny during the past two weeks.

"Resolved, That the Banks be recommended to observe Decoration Day as far as practiceable and that the Clearing House be also closed on that day."

MASONIC.

The Laying of the Corner-Stone of the First German Masonic Hall in the United States.

At noon to-day will be witnessed in Allegheny City a Masonic occasion of more than ordinary interest and importance, in the laying of the corner-stone of a new Masonic Hall, to be erected by an association composed principally of the members of Jefferson Lodge No. 288, others not members of the order being also among the stockholders. It will be the first German Masonic Hall in the United States. While it is ostensibly for the purposes of the order, and will be known as a Masonic Hall, still its projectors have made liberal provisions for accommodating the new building to the wants and conveniences of the people for social and educational purposes. It will supply what Allegheny has long needed, a proper hall where the people can be brought together before the rostrum of the lecturer or pleased in the pleasures of a concert, or entertained in the conversation and society of each other. Thanks to the public spirit of its projectors, the hall will have a department free to young men and others in quest of scientific and mechanical knowledge, where they can obtain such practical information from practical scholars and thinkers, and from the open library, as will fit them for any business, profession or trade which they may adopt. This feature is in itself so commendable and praiseworthy, that all classes will recognize the spirit of the builders, who not only confer a positive blessing on their own youth but likewise transmit to those who are to follow after us advantages that cannot be too highly appreciated. In the iron box which will be so firmly planted in the great corner stone of the edifice to-day will be a record of the names of those citizens who have looked beyond their days to benefit those coming upon the stage of life to succeed them, and if, in the course of time, the contents be taken out of the depository by a people as yet unborn, they will, as much as we of to-day, honor the men who have contributed so much towards the welfare of general society.

The members of the Order in Allegheny will meet at their hall at nine o'clock, sharp, and proceed to meet their brethren of Pittsburgh, who will meet at half-past nine o'clock at Masonic Hall. The following route will be traversed: Along Fifth avenue, Market and Sixth streets to the suspension bridge, up Federal street to Ohio, along Ohio to West Park, thence to North and East Parks, thence to Ohio street, along Ohio to Madison avenue to the corner of Washington, where the ceremony will take place at noon precisely.

More Visitors.

Claremont appears to be the most popular resort for a certain class of "men of leisure" this season. We can only account for this state of affairs in one way. Mayors Brush and Callow have frequently recommended the place and recently quite a number of the "short haired" gents have gone at their urgent solicitation. James Knox Polk Harkins, who for years past has been a source of annoyance to persons residing in the vicinity of the Point, left the city yesterday on a visit to the work house, where he will remain ninety days.

Barney Gallaher, another of the same class, was drunk and troublesome Tuesday night, and was conducted to the lock-up. Yesterday morning as officer Porter was conducting him from the toombs to the Mayor's office, he struck the officer and knocked him down. For this bit of sport the Mayor permitted him to go to Claremont on a ninety day leave of absence.

New Brighton Cutlery.

[Correspondence of Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, May 25, '70.

It is decided that New Brighton is to have a cutlery works. It is to be established on the joint stock plan. The stockholders are citizens of the place, with Mr. Mason, an old adept at the business, and former manager of the Beaver Falls Cutlery, at the head of the enterprise.

They are commencing operations. The location is the upper end of New Brighton, near the river. It is the intention to employ about one hundred and twenty hands, and manufacture principally pocket cutlery, bread and butcher knives. It will, of course, require some time to get the building ready. Success to the enterprise!

The Railroad Company are laying a double track through New Brighton.

Yours, &c., C.

Runners at War.

For a long time past a feud has existed between the "runners" of certain hotels in the vicinity of the Union Depot, and no matter how often runners are changed, the new one employed appears to instantly be imbued with a mortal hatred for the man who runs for the other hotel, whether he ever saw him or not. This state of affairs has produced numerous fights and quarrels, out of which surety of the peace and disorderly cases without number have arisen, and in fact the trouble has some times assumed the dignity of an assault and battery case. John H. Walter is runner for the Exchange, and N. W. Robling for another hotel in the vicinity. Yesterday Robling attacked Walter, and as the latter alleges, kicked him. Information was made before the Mayor and a warrant issued for the arrest of Robling.

A Royal Prisoner.

Last evening at a late hour a dispatch was received from Mayor Cole, of Harrisburg, instructing our authorities to arrest a certain Royal La Touch, and hold him until the arrival of Harrisburg officials, who wished to have him explain a charge of larceny. Officer Gillespie proceeded to the Union Depot and upon the arrival of the train secured Royal, who was accompanied by his wife and child. They were left at the Depot Hotel and the man taken to the lock-up. He is a young and very handsome looking fellow, and professes to be astonished at his oppression. The affair will be more satisfactory when the foreign officers arrive.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Another brilliant audience assembled at the Opera House last evening to hear the English Opera Troupe in the romantic opera, entitled "Lurline," Mrs. Caroline Richings Bernard, assumed the title role, and rendered it as she does everything else, in a highly satisfactory manner. This evening "Norma" will be presented, and the cast will embrace the full strength of the entire company.

CIRCUS.—Remember Campbell's mammoth Circus and Menagerie commences a series of exhibitions on Monday, the 30th inst., in the Allegheny Diamond.

Interesting to Brewers.

A letter from our Representative in Congress, Gen. J. S. Negley, says:

"The ale-brewers of Pittsburgh received assurances of an early modification of the law regulating the number of openings in ale and beer casks. The revenues received from malt liquors fall short of the amount estimated by the Commissioner. The falling off is attributed to the failure of a large number of small breweries."

The persons most easily won over to Singer's Improved Sewing Machine, are those who have been accustomed to use other machines.

Circulars containing full and specific information relating to the exposition, also the rules and regulations, and blank applications for space, may be obtained by addressing L. Frazier, Secretary.

It is stated on good authority that a warrant was issued to-day for the arrest of Maxwell P. Gaddis, on charges of conspiring with Col. P. S. R. Roberts and J. A. RELIGIOUS.

First General Assembly of the Reunited Presbyterian Assembly.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly the consideration of the Reconstruction Committee's report was finished.

The time for holding the next meeting was changed from September to July next.

Several alterations were made in the rules for formation of Presbyteries.

The evening session was unusually interesting. A public reception was given to Rev. William Arnot, Rev. Dr. Watts and Mr. Thomas Sinclaire.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

CINCINNATI, May 25.—In the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church nearly the whole day was consumed in discussing union with the United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. A. Thompson, of Amherst, Nova Scotia, spoke in opposition to Union, save with those who bore the same honored name and certainly to Union on the present basis. He regarded Union now as unnecessary, mischievous, and could not support Union without being guilty of violating the covenant engagement, which would be black ingratitude to the head of the Church.

Robt. Wilson spoke earnestly in favor of union. He said he could give up both name and testimony for the sake of union. If both testimonies were buried, he believed there was intelligence enough in the churches to prepare one better than either.

Peter Gibson, of Cincinnati, was not prepared to unite on the present basis.

Samuel G. Caughey spoke in opposition to union.

Rev. Dr. John Douglas, of Pittsburgh, got the floor, speaking twenty minutes before noon, and resumed this afternoon. He spoke about one hour and three-quarters, making the most effective speech made thus far on either side. It was a powerful appeal for union, and was listened to with profound interest. He thoroughly and ably reviewed the early history of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, showing that the antiquity claimed for it did not exist in fact. He also arrayed the repeated action of the General Synod, favoring the consideration of this questions with other branches of the Presbyterian Church. Almost every proposition of union had come from this church, and yet it was the last to accept its own offers. He exhibited the declension of the church in members until it had but thirty ministers, and argued that something must be done. He contended that the opponents were unable to show any difference between the testimonies of the two churches, and that in regard to property, that the law would allow them to take their property with them.

The vote on union will be taken at half-past nine o'clock to-night.

Evening.—The Synod came to a vote this evening on the acceptance of the report of the committee as to the basis of union, resulting in ten in favor and twenty-seven against. The result has been anticipated.

After the defeat of the basis submitted by the Committee, a resolution introduced by Rev. J. F. Morton, for the appointment of a new Committee, was defeated by the adoption of a substitute declaring the Synod would cease, at least for the present, any further efforts on the subject of Union, and that trusting in the Head of the Church and the goodness of their cause they would go forward with united hands and hearts in the prosecution of their own appropriate work.

Final adjournment was not carried until nearly one o'clock at night.

General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

MEMPHIS, May 25.—In the General Conference of the M. E. Church South, Bishop Pierce presiding, the cosideration of the organization and consolidation of the Board of Missions was resumed. The pro rata distribution of funds collected was discussed finally, and the clause providing that forty per cent. of the gross collections shall go to the parent board and the remainder to be used within the bounds of the annual conferences where the funds were raised, was adopted. Nashville was selected as the location of the parent board. Resolutions removing the German Apologist office to Galveston were adopted. The report of the Committee on Episcopacy, in reference to the veto power of the bishops, already reported, was taken up and adopted. The report of the Committee on Books and Periodicals, in reference to a monthly magazine, was taken up and name and location discussed.

The following officers were elected: Agent of Book Concern, Dr. H. Redford; book editor, T. O. Summers; editor Nashville Advocate, T. O. Summers; editor Monthly Magazine, Rev. W. H. Harrison; Sunday school Secretary, A. G. Hapgood; Secretary of Missionary Board, Dr. G. B. McFerrin. The editors of other church papers were reelected.

The selection of the next place of meeting was next in order, and Louisville, Nashville, Baltimore, Richmond, San Francisco and Atlanta put in nomination. On the first vote Louisville received one hundred and three and the choice was then made unanimous.

The Committee on Assessments reported the salaries of Bishops Andrew and Early at $2,500, the others at $3,000 each.

The assessments were then debated.

Presbyterian General Assembly South.

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 25.—In the General Assembly the subject of most intense interest to-day was the reception of delegates from the Northern Presbyterian Church, consisting of Rev. Dr. Backus, of Baltimore, Rev. Dr. Vandyke, of Brooklyn, and Hon. W. E. Dodge, of New York. They presented the resolutions of that Assembly, expressive of paternal regard and confidence, and followed them with remarks, in which it was stated that they came not to ask for reunion, not to ask for immediate correspondence, but to ask the appointment of a committee to meet a similar committee appointed by the Northern Assembly and to confer respecting the varied matters of difference arising from adjacent borders, questions of jurisdiction and property rights between the two Assemblies, and to secure if possible an adjustment of all differences between the two bodies on a basis that shall be just and honorable to all parties and worthy of Christian men. While they were speaking, the breathless interest, the deep emotion, formed a scene that will not soon be forgotten. The kind words of the speakers evidently found lodgment in the hearts of those to whom they were addressed. The overtures were referred to the committee on foreign correspondence, to prepare a well considered reply.

Rev. Dr. J. R. Wilson was elected Professor of Pastoral Theology in Columbia, South Carolina.

At night the subject of Education was considered and addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Rand and others.

Blake, of Chicago, was made temporary chairman and Mrs. Mott invoked the divine blessing. The balance of the session was devoted to speeches.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 25, 1870.

PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATION.

A delegation of eight members of the Pennsylvania Legislature arrived here to-day to ask Congress to reimburse the coal-dealers of Pittsburgh thirty thousand dollars, which they paid the President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for widening the spans of the Parkersburg and Bellaire bridge twenty-five feet, making them 325 feet, and to ask that the spans be further enlarged to a width of four hundred feet.

AFFAIRS WITH SPAIN.

No doubt from the character of the remarks in the House yesterday something will speedily be done to resent the Spanish insults and invasion of the rights of Americans abroad. It is stated that the feeling is so intense that if a proposition is made and moved to allow Gen. Banks to report thereon, it would be passed unanimously. As the case stands, both sides of the House are strongly committed to the Cuban cause, and speedy action is expected regarding the outrages on Americans by the Spanish.

THE TAX BILL.

The Committee of Ways and Means have agreed on various amendments to the tax bill, including one to reduce the tax on gross receipts of theatres to one per cent. An effort will be made in the House to remove it altogether.

THE PIPE OF PEACE.

The Indian chiefs now here smoked a pipe with the Commissioner of Indian Affairs today, who made a brief speech to them, with which they were apparently pleased.

UPSHUR COURT MARTIAL.

The sentence of the court martial in the case of Commander Upshur, that he be publicly reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy, has been carried into effect.

A Window in the Ear.

"Having shown you, in my last lecture, that the globe of the eye is moved by pulley and cords, that it contains a window and curtain, chambers and mirror, and a canal, and having now described the anatomical structure of the ear, you will perceive that it contains an entrance hall, halls of audience, a round and an oval window, a labyrinth, canals, a drum, a stirrup, a hammer and an anvil. Yet with all these in our ear, we hear very distinctly. But as this lecture is only upon diseases of the ear, it will be sufficient for me to state that all these parts are necessary to form, as they do, one complete and beautiful apparatus. All mechanical contrivances have hitherto only produced a very imperfect representation of it, in fact, the human mind cannot conceive anything so wonderously perfect as the ear."—From Dr. Franks' lecture on the ear.

The Right Thing—The Right Place.

Mr. Editors:—I was led by your favorable notice of J. F. Belistine, and by the testimony of a friend who has dealt with him for more than a year, to try for myself the quality of the various kinds of meat for which he is celebrated. My experience is good proof that Belistine either at his stand 78 Pittsburgh or 30 Allegheny Market, is, as yo have said, a sure place to get good, and only good beef, mutton, or veal, cut and served exactly as they should be. Try him and be convinced.

THE EYE.

Dr. FRANKS, the celebrated Lecturer on the Eye, and Manufacturer of Patent and Improved Spectacles, has returned to Pittsburgh, and is now at the ST. CLAIR HOTEL, where he adjusts his far-famed Spectacles to defective vision from an examination of the eye alone, so as to suit equally well by day as by artificial light without fatigue, from 15 to 25 years. Dr. F. may be professionally consulted on all diseases of the Human Eye, and has a large stock of his Spectacles and Eye Glasses for sale. About 4,000 pairs of these Spectacles were sold on Dr. Franks last visit in the space of three months, giving the most entire satisfaction to all, as the medical gentlemen and citizens of Pittsburgh have by certificate testified.
